Trump tariffs forced India, Pak to declare ceasefire: US

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

TRUMP administration officials have told a US court that President Donald Trump's emergency tariff powers were instrumental in securing a ceasefire between India and Pakistan earlier this month.

"This ceasefire was only achieved after President Trump interceded and offered both nations trading access with the United States to avert a full-scale war," read the legal documents submitted to the US Court of International Trade on May 23.

The revelation is in stark contrast to India's official position that there was no third-party role in the ceasefire worked out between the Directors General of Military Operations of India and Pakistan.

Donald Trump, US President

The US assertion was part of the Trump administration's response to a lawsuit filed by small American businesses challenging Trump's broad use of the 1977 International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEEPA). The plaintiffs claim the law does not authorise the president to impose tariffs and argue Trump's trade policies have inflicted economic harm.

Senior US officials, including Commerce Secretary Howard Lutnick, Trade Representative Jamieson Greer, Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent, and Secretary of State Marco Rubio, defended the use of IEEPA.

Lutnick said Trump's offer of enhanced trade access helped de-escalate a military standoff between 'nuclear-armed' India and Pakistan.

The US submission also claimed that Trump's tariff pressure helped bring Beijing to the negotiating table.

Manipur MLAs 'stake' claim to form govt

Manipur Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalla meets the MLAs on Wednesday | PTI

FORTY-FOUR MLAs are ready to form a new government in Manipur, BJP legislator Thokchom Radheshyam Singh claimed on Wednesday after meeting Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalla. But there was no word on who would head the new government.

Singh, along with nine other MLAs — seven from the BJP, two from the National People's Party and an independent — met Bhalla. The state has 60 Assembly seats, one of which became vacant after the death of an MLA.

Asked if they would stake a claim to form government, he said, "We conveyed to the governor that 44 MLAs are ready. This is akin to staking a claim," Singh said.

He claimed that all MLAs, except the 10 from the Kuki-Zo community and five from Congress, favoured forming a government.

Singh said the Centre could reimpose President's rule if a popular government failed. Manipur has been under Central rule since February after BJP leader N Biren Singh resigned as CM, amid criticisms about his government's handling of the clashes between Meiteis and Kuki-Zos.

Meanwhile, a section of the BJP's central leadership dismissed the possibility of lifting President's Rule in the short run. Some others, however, favoured government formation, citing Union home minister Amit Shah's meeting with President Droupadi Murmu. However, the fact remains that normalcy is yet to be restored, suggesting Central rule was necessary for now.

Sources in the Union home ministry said any decision on President's Rule in Manipur would be made at the political level. As of now, they have not received any formal indication in the matter, they added.

Foreigners who censure Americans face visa ban

Latest policy could target officials regulating US-based tech firms

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

THE United States will begin imposing visa bans on foreign nationals accused of censoring Americans, Secretary of State Marco Rubio announced on Wednesday, signalling a sharp escalation in the country's pushback against perceived overreach by foreign governments.

Rubio did not cite specific incidents or countries, but suggested the policy could target officials regulating US-based tech companies. The move follows increasing friction between the US and some of its allies over content moderation on American social media platforms.

In a statement, Rubio said the new visa restriction policy will apply to foreign nationals "responsible for censorship of protected expression in the US." He condemned foreign governments for pressuring American platforms to adopt global content rules that could infringe on US rights.

"Today, I am announcing a new visa restriction policy that will apply to foreign officials and persons who are complicit in censoring Americans. Free speech is essential to the American way of life—a birthright over which foreign governments have no authority," he said.

"It is unacceptable for foreign officials to issue or threaten arrest warrants for social media posts made on US soil," Rubio said.

FREE SPEECH IS A BIRTHRIGHT: RUBIO

"Today, I am announcing a new visa restriction policy that will apply to foreign officials and persons who are complicit in censoring Americans. Free speech is essential to the American way of life—a birthright over which foreign governments have no authority," said US Secretary of State Rubio

"It is similarly unacceptable for foreign officials to demand that American tech platforms adopt global content moderation policies or engage in censorship activity that reaches beyond their authority and into the United States."

In a social media post, Rubio added: "Whether in Latin America, Europe, or elsewhere, the days of passive treatment for those who work to undermine the rights of Americans are over."

Though Rubio did not identify any specific individuals or nations, the announcement comes amid ongoing disputes. Brazil, for example, has clashed with platform X—owned by Trump ally Elon Musk—over court orders to remove accounts accused of spreading misinformation.

The Trump administration has also sharply criticised various European countries for what it describes as censorship of online speech.

KAMAL HAASAN'S STATEMENT TRIGGERS OUTRAGE IN K'TAKA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ACTOR Kamal Haasan's statement that Kannada was born out of Tamil has stirred a hornet's nest in Karnataka, with Kannada organisations and politicians across the spectrum, including Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Assembly opposition leader R Ashoka, criticising the actor.

They demanded an apology from Haasan and told him to learn the history of Kannada before making statements. They threatened to ban his upcoming film Thug Life, slated for release on June 5.

His statement triggered protests across several districts of Karnataka. Members of the Karnataka Rakshana Vedike, led by Praveen Shetty, protested outside the Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce (KFCC), demanding Thug Life be banned. They also submitted a letter to Film Chamber president M Narasimhalu, seeking action against the actor. They later filed a complaint at the RT Nagar police station. The police are yet to register an FIR.

Praveen Shetty said, "Haasan's statement is unacceptable. No Kannadiga will tolerate this. The Film Chamber should intervene and ban his film in the state." He urged the Karnataka government to ban the film. "If Haasan does not apologise, protests will be held outside theatres. If any untoward incident happens, both the government and actor will be responsible," he warned.

Siddaramaiah said Kannada has a rich and ancient history, and Haasan is evidently unaware of it.

Narasimhalu said he has called for a meeting with the stakeholders of the Kannada film industry. "We will meet tomorrow (Thursday) and announce the decision by afternoon," he said.

R Ashoka called Haasan a "madman" and said that despite getting opportunities in Kannada cinema, Haasan's derogatory remarks show he is an "urban Naxal". He urged all Kannadigas to boycott Haasan and to stop his films from being screened. He also demanded immediate action from the state government.

BJP state president BY Vijayendra posted on X, calling Haasan's statement "uncultured behaviour" and an "insult to another language". CONTINUED ON P3

Not Dilli, not Pindi. B'desh First, says BNP

MONIDEEPA BANERJIE

PART 1

BANGLADESH Nationalist Party (BNP) leader Tarique Rahman, son of former prime minister Khaleda Zia, on Wednesday gave his sea of supporters in Dhaka a slogan to remember and use in elections he insisted the interim government must hold in December. "Not Dilli, not Pindi, nor any other country. Bangladesh first," Rahman thundered to a roar of approval from lakhs of people who turned the street outside the BNP's head office at Naya Paltan in Dhaka into a carpet of yellow BNP pennants and green and red Bangladesh flags.

The Delhi dig was directed at the Awami League, which BNP has consistently claimed is in India's pocket. The reference to Pindi is a first and directed at the growing warmth between the Muhammed Yunus government in Dhaka and the Pakistan military HQ in Rawalpindi.

Last week, Army chief Waker-Uz-Zaman had reportedly made the same demand — polls by December — and though the comments were officially denied later, they triggered a near crisis. Yunus threatened to resign if pushed on the issue. Political parties rushed to placate him and he relented. But he did not budge from the six-month window — between December 2025 and June 2026 — he gave himself for holding polls.

There is a rider. A panel has been set up to review and fix flaws in the electoral process. Yunus insists that the reforms must be completed and implemented before polls. The BNP, which is pressing for December polls, wants elections first and for the remaining reforms to be implemented by an elected government. This debate pushed Bangladesh on edge last week. It is still teetering there.

A day after Abdul Rahiman (32) was hacked to death in Bantwal taluk near Mangaluru, Dakshina Kannada district remained tense on Wednesday. Prohibitory orders are in force in the district till May 30.

Rahiman's funeral was held at his hometown of Ira Kodi in Kuriyala village that was attended by hundreds of people. Rahiman's sister Shabana said he was the sole breadwinner of their family of elderly parents, his wife and two children. "He was doing good to everyone in this village. It is heartbreaking to see someone like him murdered in this fashion. The culprits must be brought to book," she said.

Several traders kept their shops closed in Farangipete, BC Road, Ullal and in parts of Mangaluru on Wednesday. Some miscreants stoned two private buses in Surathkal.

Biryani to podi dosa, Kerala eatery serves Indian chess stars

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Stavanger (Norway)

AFTER obliging the vast array of autograph hunters outside the playing hall at the venue, Arjun Erigaisi got into a car and made his way to an eatery that has become the rage among Indian chess players here. It's a trip all four Indian players — R Vaishali, D Gukesh and Koneru Humpy the others — have already made at the ongoing edition of Norway Chess.

Erigaisi, featuring in Stavanger for the first time, was told about the place by R Praggnanandhaa, who tasted their food last year. The players' favourites include lamb masala, chicken biryani and, in Vaishali's case, podi dosa. "A few of the players ordered south Indian style lamb masala," says Nitish Kamath, one of the five owners of Spisoh. "Humpy doesn't have a set template and we have noticed that Vaishali has picked up podi dosa on a few occasions."

Spisoh — an unlikely portmanteau between the Norwegian word spis (to eat) and the Hindi word khaao—was a product of the pandemic thanks to the imagination of several first generation immigrants originally from Kerala. "We came up with the concept of a ghost kitchen," says Kamath, who has been working in the energy sector for more than a decade. Spisoh is 'official food partner' this time. The one-time ghost kitchen still has only one permanent employee — a chef from Tamil Nadu who was about to go back home after losing his job in an Oslo hotel after Covid.

Gukesh was one of the first Indian players to try out Spisoh's food in 2023. Less than 10 minutes after Erigaisi bested Gukesh, the former was seen exchanging a few friendly words with Kamath outside the playing hall. "I'm going there to pick up my food," he said. P15

Sanju Kamble, a resident of Naganur PA, was returning from his fields with his children in the cart when the river's water level suddenly rose. The strong current overturned the cart, sweeping away Kamble and his children. While villagers saved Sanju and his son Vedant, his two younger sons, Deepak Sanju Kamble (8) and Ganesh Sanju Kamble (6), drowned.

Though villagers from Naganur, Sambargi, Kalloti, and Tawshi made immediate efforts to rescue the two children, they could not be saved. Their bodies were later recovered by the rescue team.

BJP CALLS GARBAGE USER FEE A BURDEN, WANTS IT ROLLED BACK

Says such taxes levied to fund 5 guarantees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE BJP on Wednesday demanded the rollback of garbage user fee in the city. The Congress government has introduced Rs 250 fee for garbage management.

Speaking to reporters at BBMP, Opposition Leader R Ashoka criticized the government for burdening Bengaluru residents with excessive taxes.

"They (Congress) are devising a scheme to extract revenue from garbage. Congress has imposed the highest garbage tax in the country. While Kempegowda earned the title of Nadaprabhu for building the state, Congress leaders have earned the title of those who ruined it," he said.

Previously, the city had a cess. Now, a user fee has been added alongside it. While the garbage tender is valued at Rs 147 crore, excessive fees are being collected from the public. With the user fee, the collection could reach Rs 500 to Rs 600 crore, he said.

"Either user fee or cess should be collected. The move will increase house rents, as well as rates for commercial buildings, marriage halls, hospitals, schools, and hotels. One tax will lead to an increase in all rates," he said.

Ashoka accused the Congress of looting Bengaluru residents. "They use the excuse of central government law, even though no central law mandates imposing two types of fees," he said.

He urged the government to convene a meeting of Bengaluru MLAs to discuss this issue and alleged that such taxes are being collected to fund Congress's five guarantee schemes.

The BJP party's Bangalore City wing gave a representation to Additional Chief Secretary Tushar Girinath who is also the BBMP Administrator. The representation said that Siddaramaiah was responsible for making Bengaluru a city more expensive than Dubai. Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar is responsible for implementing an unrealistic project, Brand Bengaluru. The citizens have been battered by the mismanagement of both of them, the BJP said in the representation.

By forming the Greater Bangalore Authority and dividing the city into six municipalities, the government has taken a step to disenfranchise the original Bengaluru citizens. In the last two years, DCM has not implemented a single infrastructure project in the city and is showing the daydream of Brand Bengaluru to the citizens," the representation stated.

The BJP also demanded steps to reduce corruption in the corporation and maintain quality of work and initiative to provide a citizen-friendly administration.

Around 2,000 saplings were planted at Arekere Lake in Bommanahalli recently

BBMP vows to green city by planting 1L saplings

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@Bengaluru

WITH early monsoon and a friendly environment for plantation drive, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Forest Division has begun native species plantation drive at lakes and parks in Bengaluru from Monday onwards.

The officials have begun to plant saplings of fig, neem, rudraksha and other species. Around 2,000 saplings were planted at Arekere Lake in Bommanahalli and 5,000 each in the Bellandur and Varthur Lake buffer zones.

According to BLG Swamy, Deputy Conservator Of Forest, BBMP, one lakh saplings will be planted and contractors engaged will be asked to take care of these for three years.

He said that work orders have been issued to around 12 agencies and the drive to plant 50,000 saplings in phase one has begun. A few more work orders are pending and once that is done, the drive will go into full swing.

"At some places, 1,500 saplings and in a few places, 2,000 to 3,500 saplings will be planted. "Under the leadership of Special Commissioner Preeti Gehlot, we have already planted saplings at Arekere Lake. The reason for taking up the drive during rains is to ensure high survival rate," said Swamy. He added that, this year, the drive will be in places like parks, lake buffer zones and large industrial areas.

Once the 50,000 target is reached by planting saplings across eight zones, palike will begin to plant another 50,000 for the financial year as the tender process is underway, added a senior official.

The BBMP officials sought permission from the Bengaluru Development Authority for the two water bodies, Varthur measuring 480 acres and Bellandur Lake measuring over 900 acres, for plantation drive. But due to development work these are pending in Bellandur. The BBMP was asked to take up the drive next year.

"Nearly 200 acres in Bellandur still has silt. To remove the silt and dewater the same for wetland improvement at three places, it will take another eight months and hence we have asked the BBMP to plant saplings next year," said Kavitha Krishna, Assistant Executive Engineer (AEE) BDA Lake Wing.

BEd students protest as institute fails to get them hall tickets

GAYATHRI M KURUP @Bengaluru

A group of BEd aspirants came out in protest against Sri Vishnu Vocational Studies (SVVS), a vocational institution at Chamrajpet, on Wednesday alleging fraud, misinterpretation and illegal withholding of their original academic documents.

According to the complainants, the institute's owner, Ravi Batlahalli, had promised them BEd admission under Bangalore University, assuring them they could appear for the university examinations.

"The owner claimed that SVVS had full affiliation with Bangalore University and collected our original documents SSLC, PUC, degree certificates along with fees up to Rs 80,000," said one of the students.

However, just a week before their scheduled BEd examinations, the students said they discovered that SVVS is not affiliated with Bangalore University, nor does it have any valid recognition to conduct B.Ed programs. "We don't have an authentic hall ticket, we don't know which college we belong to, we don't know which center we belong to" said Sithara, a student.

"Two exams have already taken place, and we've missed both. We were told hall tickets would be issued, but what we received were unsigned and unofficial drafts with no college code or university stamp. The hall tickets appear fake," said another student.

The group alleged that Batlahalli repeatedly misled them. "Every time we ask about the exams, he blames the university. When we contact the university, they say they have no knowledge of him or SVVS. He refuses to return our original certificates," said Sithara. The accused has allegedly cheated over 110 women, some of whom were promised the opportunity to appear for their B.Ed examinations as early as last year.

"A few of us enrolled last year, but he kept giving excuses citing technical issues and problems with our documents. He manipulated us into believing him, and as a result, we missed the exams. We lost one academic year then, and now we've lost this year too," said Priya, another affected student.

The students have filed a complaint at the Chamarajpet Police Station. "He hasn't even responded to calls from the police," said Sithara. "The authorities have assured us that further investigation will be carried out," she added.

When TNIE reached out to Batlahalli he was not available for comments.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29TH May : Cautious alignments are emphasised today. In my opinion it's a day for us all to slow down and take stock, even if our personal horoscopes disagree. Concentrate on what you can achieve in practical terms, and leave speculation for later. I'm planning to steer clear of distractions like phone calls and emails and hope that, by the end of the day, I've actually got something to show for my efforts!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There are two factors to take into account today. The Moon's general indication for everybody advises caution and the tying up of loose ends. As far as you are concerned as an individual, there is an expectation that you will accomplish as much as you possibly can.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There are pressu-res on you to get on with essential jobs, but can you really foll-ow someone else's agenda? If you wish, you may give yourself twenty-four hours before leaping into action. However, there seem to be seve-ral domestic matters to be resolved before you can feel truly safe, secure and confident. And you must keep colleagues, employers and loved ones informed.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The lessons you are having to learn now may be making you uncomfortable, but you're not alone in feeling slightly unsettled. The simple truth is that you are being encouraged to take on more than you can handle, which may in fact be no bad thing.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Passion is in the air as the Sun and the Moon approach a strident relationship, mixing female power with male energy. Your close partnerships are nothing if not interesting at the moment, and there really is considerable opportunity to get out and have a little fun.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
When the chips are down, you're really quite sensitive! You realise only too clearly that difficulties between you and other people are not just going to disappear, but you may find solace in the company of certain family members, perhaps younger relatives.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You've been hanging on, but you will soon hear something to your advantage. I expect that the implications may take some considerable time to sink in, but when they do then you'll realise how well off you are. Look hard enough and you'll find the silver lining!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If you've got your wits about you, today should prove to be productive and profitable. Most of the planets raise the question of your finances, even indirectly, and ask just when are you going to get your act together? The answer is - when you're ready!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's certainly a day of extremes. On the one hand, everything really is going in your direction. On the other, it may be that you just can't put a foot right where your other half's concerned. But, then, there are few people as skilled as you at walking emotional tight ropes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have a tendency to overdo things. It's an emotional day and, while people around you seem to be basically well-intentioned, there will be a complete disregard for the facts - with all the risks that this entails. If you aren't up on the details yourself, then bring other people in to help.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's a day to mix with friends and lovers, both old and new. Your social stars are often highlighted at this time of year but, this year, they are stronger than ever, so take pleasure in other people's company. You never know who is going to be important to you in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You probably feel unsure about who your friends are; you've always had many acquaintances, but often few people to whom you're really close. Spare a little extra thought for family members, especially those who are younger and need your help, even if they're reluctant to ask for it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Something deeply inspiring is going on in your life, but in a sense you've probably been here before. Foreign connections are important, but it's your mystical and spiritual dimensions which require a little more attention: the answers to a current dilemma may lie within!

Police have recovered 188 grams of gold ornaments worth Rs 16.5 lakh, 550 grams of silver ornaments and Rs 1,500 from them. Baba Jaan and his son, residents of Shikaripalya, stole the valuables from seven houses in Electronics City sub-division and two houses in Hebbagodi. The police said the accused looked for houses, where women would go to the terrace to dry clothes or go out for a while without locking the doors.

WORLD NO TOBACCO DAY

City police to crack down on unlicensed tobacco sales

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CITY Police Commissioner B Dayananda has warned of strict action against shops selling cigarettes and other tobacco products without the mandatory license prescribed by the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

"In observance of World No Tobacco Day, which falls on May 31, the city police will conduct both awareness and enforcement campaigns across Bengaluru to protect public health and ensure compliance with tobacco control laws," the commissioner said.

Efforts will be made to promote a tobacco-free environment, and all tobacco traders must possess a valid license. From May 27 to June 2, the police department will intensify enforcement of the Cigarettes and Other Tobacco Products Act, 2003 (COTPA). Strict action will be taken against smoking in public places, selling tobacco products to minors, and selling tobacco near educational institutions.

"Special focus will be given on enforcing the ban on Electronic Nicotine Delivery Systems, including e-cigarettes and vaping devices. Surprise inspections will be carried out at malls, coffee bars, and shops to check for violations," he said. He said that action has been taken against illegal hookah bars, and inspections will continue to identify and shut down unauthorised establishments. He further said that in collaboration with BBMP, police officers will conduct awareness drives in commercial areas to inform tobacco vendors about licensing being mandatory. They will also guide vendors through the process of obtaining a tobacco sales license.

From 2024 till April this year, 57,130 cases have been registered under COTPA and collected Rs 80 lakh in fines

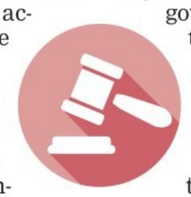
Court raps Lokayukta for inaction in graft case

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

THE Special Court for Lokayukta cases castigated the Lokayukta police for their failure to arrest the prime accused, including a police inspector and two constables, in a corruption case while rejecting anticipatory bail petitions of the other four accused.

The corruption case was registered on April 1, 2025.

A V Kumar, who was inspector at Annapurneshwari Nagar Police Station at the time of the alleged crime, is the first accused and the two constables who were working under him are the second and the fifth accused. The third and fourth accused are Kumar's relatives. The sixth and seventh accused are the private persons.



"The prima-facie involvement of police officers at higher rank behind the crime in question is forthcoming. It appears that, on the day of the trap, the Lokayukta police having taken other accused persons into custody have set them at liberty on the pretext of giving notice under Section 35(5) of BNSS even without any enquiry", Judge K M Radhakrishna observed.

Kumar was accused of forcing the complainant, Channegowda K K, a civil contractor, to settle his financial dispute with the sixth accused for Rs 27.50 lakh under the threat of opening a rowdy sheet and sending him to jail.

Kumar forced the complainant to sell his house worth Rs 3.50 crore at Srigandhada Kaval for Rs 2.05 crore in the name of his relative, Gavigowda, the third accused, on his behalf. Having forcefully taken the complainant's bank account number he got transferred Rs 4,00,500 from Gavigowda's bank account. Later, Kumar got executed an agreement of sale, threatening to fix the complainant and his wife in criminal cases unless they execute the sale deed as he directed. Rejecting the anticipatory bail applications of Somashekar Aradhya, A V Dinesh, Koushik S and Uttam N, the special court quoted the arguments of the public prosecutor that the police inspector and other accused persons are not cooperating with the investigating agency despite serving of notices.

Apologise or face ban: Min slams Haasan for Kannada remark

VIJAYENDRA stated, "Artists, especially, should respect every language. It is the height of arrogance for an actor who has worked in many Indian languages, including Kannada, to insult Kannada — even while praising Tamil and including actor Shivarajkumar in that glorification."

Minister for Kannada and Culture and Backward Classes Welfare Shivaraj S Tangadagi demanded an apology from Haasan. "If not, the state will consider banning Haasan's films, and a formal letter will be sent to KFCC," he said. "To act in films and earn money, they need our language. But now they make such statements for publicity! Earlier, Sonu Nigam made similar remarks about Kannadigas and later apologised. People like this must be taught a lesson," he said.

Asked why actor Shivarajkumar, who was at the event, did not condemn Haasan's remarks, he said, "Dr Rajkumar (Shivarajkumar's father and Kannada cinema icon) made immense contributions to Kannada, and the Kannada language gave everything to his family. Shivarajkumar too should speak up and condemn Haasan's statement."

GOVERNOR Thaawarchand Gehlot on Wednesday refused to reconsider his decision of reserving the Karnataka Transparency in Public Procurements (Amendment) Bill, 2025, for the consideration of the President of India to invoke the Article 143 of the Constitution.

Following the government's resubmission, as he had returned the Bill twice, on May 22 he clarified that he already reserved the bill for the 'kind consideration' of the President.

The Governor cited the Supreme Court observation in the State of Tamil Nadu Vs Governor of Tamil Nadu. "This is all the more necessary as there is no mechanism at the State level for the Governor to refer bills to the constitutional courts for their advice or opinion thereupon. Under the scheme of the Constitution as we see it, there is only one possible way for the Governor to ascertain the palpable constitutionality of a bill, which is by way of reserving it for the consideration of the President who in turn is then expected to invoke Article 143."

He stated that in providing 4 per cent reservation for Category-lI(B), as per the Bill, there is a high chance that it might be construed as reservation based on the religion, even though earlier, it is considered as Backward Class, inturn which may lead to more legal complications.

"In this scenario I am of the opinion that instead of giving assent to the proposed Bill, I would deem fit to reserve this Bill for the kind consideration of the President to avoid more constitutional complications, since it involves Constitutional restrictions", he said.

He said that he has gone through the resubmission of the State Government as it has referred to the observations of the Supreme Court in respect to the reservation of Bills by the Governor.

In the proposed amendment, reservation of 4 per cent in tenders up to the value of 2 crore in Government construction works for the Backward Class category II (B). It is to be noted that only Muslim community was included in Category-II(B) and it has been Considered as Backward Class. Whereas, Category-l consists of 95 castes, Category-IlA consists of 102 castes, Category-III(A) consists of 3 castes and Category-lll(B) consists of 6 castes (including their sub castes). Out of all these Categories only Category-lI(B) consists of only one caste-Muslim, he pointed out.

Hence, as per the proposed amendment providing 4 per cent reservation to the Backward Class Category -lI(B), which includes only Muslim may be construed as reservation for the religious community based on religion, he added.

The Supreme Court emphasised that Articles 15 and 16 prohibit reservations on the basis of religion and any affirmative action must be rather based on the socio-economic factors. The Constitution of India does not permit reservation based on religion, as it violates the principles of equality (Article 14), non-discrimination (Article 15) and equal opportunity in public employment (Article 16), he elaborated.

Cong grills Centre over Op Sindoor, slams govt over vacancies in forces

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Congress's national leadership continued its fussilade against the Centre over Operation Sindoor on Wednesday and blamed the government for not filling vacancies in the armed forces. Speaking at the 'Jai Hind Sabha' organised by the party in the city, AICC General Secretary KC Venugopal slammed the Central Government for not calling a special Parliament session to demonstrate national unity on Operation Sindoor.

He said, "Several questions have emerged about Operation Sindoor. These need answers from the government. Why did our intelligence agencies fail to prevent the Pahalgam attack? We have also learned that an officer from the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) was arrested by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) for allegedly leaking information related to the Pahalgam attack to Pakistan." Venugopal also pointed out that the perpetrators of Pahalgam terror are yet to be arrested.

He also questioned the abrupt stoppage of Operation Sindoor. "The government has not explained the terms of the ceasefire with Pakistan. PM Narendra Modi has remained silent, even as US President Donald Trump claimed credit for the ceasefire. The PM's silence raises serious concerns about the strength of our foreign policy. It appears decisions are being made not in Delhi, but in Washington, DC," he said.

He said the Congress had posed several questions to the External Affairs Minister although not all could be made public. "The answers we received are not satisfactory."

"Our Foreign Minister said that intelligence about the attack was shared in advance. If that's the case, why wasn't action taken to prevent it? And now he claims there was no intelligence before the operation. His contradictory statements are on public record," Venugopal said.

Meanwhile, AICC General Secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala blamed the Centre for not filling the vacancies in the armed forces. "Our MPs raised questions in Parliament regarding the number of vacancies. Since 2023, the government has stopped publishing those statistics. At that time, 1.22 lakh positions were vacant. Experts now estimate this has risen to 1.75 lakh — including around 25,000 officer posts," he said.

"The Air Force should have 45 to 48 air squadrons. Today, there are only 24 operational. As an Indian, I raise this question — not as a Congressman," he said, adding, "If we do not recruit for our armed forces, how will we strengthen our military?"

He demanded the full implementation of the One Rank, One Pension scheme for the welfare of army personnel and emphasised the need to modernise the armed forces with drone capabilities and AI technologies.

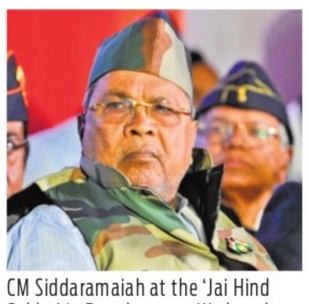
The veteran, who was seated in the front row, questioned whether those Congress leaders had fought in a war. Other army person, too, echoed the same. Meanwhile, other retired army personnel intervened to calm him down. The event continued without disruption, as the guests on stage remained unaware of the incident.



CM Siddaramaiah at the 'Jai Hind Sabha' in Benglauru on Wednesday

'NO EXCISE DUTY WILL BE LEVIED ON ARMY CANTEENS IN K'TAKA'

Bengaluru: KARNATAKA CM Siddaramaiah said that there will be no excise duty on army canteens in the state and that the State Government will establish an Ex-Servicemen Welfare Corporation. He made the announcement during the Jai Hind Sabha programme organised to felicitate retired servicemen and honour the families of martyred soldiers. The event was organised by the Congress across the nation. The chief guests of the event — AICC General Secretaries KC Venugopal and Randeep Surjewala, CM Siddaramaiah, and DyCM DK Shivakumar — were offered military jackets by army veterans which they wore in the event. Over nine family members of martyred soldiers from Karnataka, including the parents of Major Sandeep Unnikrishnan, were honoured by Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar. Veteran army personnel were also felicitated. Siddaramaiah said that soldiers serve the nation with a spirit of sacrifice. Protecting the country is not only the responsibility of the Armed Forces but also of 140 crore Indians, he said, adding that Pakistan always provokes and instigates conflict. "We must bring Pakistan under control. India has never compromised in its history when it comes to protecting the nation, and it never will," the CM said. He further said that soldiers, farmers, doctors, and teachers must be remembered as one's own parents.

BJP core committee meeting today

BENGALURU: The BJP Core Committee meeting on Thursday is expected to focus on strengthening the party in the state. Party General Secretary and Karnataka incharge Radha Mohan Das Agrawal, who is in Bengaluru, is conducting a series of meetings with various stakeholders since Tuesday. Agrawal met Schedule Caste and women leaders on Tuesday and Schedule Tribe and youth leaders on Wednesday. Party's present and former office-bearers are involved in the discussions.

I never asked for shifting of HAL to AP, says Naidu

VIJAYAWADA: Andhra Pradesh CM N Chandrababu Naidu dismissed media reports, and political allegations suggesting that he sought the relocation of Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) facility from Karnataka to Andhra Pradesh. Naidu said that his appeal to the Centre was solely for the establishment of a defence manufacturing hub in AP, and not for shifting of existing facilities from other states. "I never asked for the HAL located in Bengaluru to be shifted to Andhra Pradesh. It's a massive, strategic facility - such institutions can't and shouldn't be moved. I have never sought the relocation of any project from one region to another, and such an idea is not part of my history," Naidu said. He emphasised that Lepakshi in Anantapur is suitable for setting up aircraft manufacturing and defence-related industries. "I had earlier highlighted Lepakshi's potential, but some Karnataka politicians misunderstood this as an attempt to shift HAL to Andhra Pradesh," he said.

BJP dares Siddu for open debate on govt performance

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP General Secretary and Rajya Sabha member Radha Mohan Das Agrawal dared Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah for an open debate with state BJP president BY Vijayendra on the government's performance and the party's chargesheet, where they have listed out the government's failures.

Agrawal slammed Siddaramaiah for filing a defamation case against the BJP for criticising his government.

"Let the debate be telecast across Karnataka. If he (Siddaramaiah) is confident and has the courage to respond to the allegations, let him participate in the debate. We are ready, and we will invite them. If the CM does not agree to a debate, it means that our allegations are true," the BJP leader said.

Agrawal said that Congress won 136 seats in 2023, and within one year, the people of Karnataka did not vote for them in the Lok Sabha polls. "Congress' corruption has been exposed. If it continues, Congress will lose future polls," he said.

On the Congress government deciding to file a defamation case against BJP, he said, "The Congress organised its Sadhana Samavesha on May 20 to celebrate the second anniversary of the party coming to power in the state. As a responsible opposition party, BJP gave counter advertisements highlighting the failures of the State Government and released a chargesheet. If they did not agree with our chargesheet, they should have replied before the public. It is common in democracy to make allegations and counter allegations. But perhaps for the first time, a government is filing defamation case against the opposition."

'BJP HAS CULTURE OF HOLDING POLLS TO ELECT STATE PREZ'

On the next state president of BJP, Agrawal said that the party has an "election culture" to make appointments. "When we announce the dates for the polls, every party worker who has been a member of the party will have the right to file a nomination. If there is more than one nomination, then there will be elections," he said.

Congress top brass leaders lack the ability to think sanely and looks like they have influenced their state leadership, and that may be the reason for their decision to file defamation, he said.

On the BJP suspending MLAs ST Somashekar and Shivaram Hebbar, Agrawal said that that party never wants to lose any of its members, but discipline is supreme.

On MLA Muniratna, who has many allegations against him, Agrawal said that no one is bigger than the law. "The State Government might be investigating. We will not intervene. If he is found guilty, we will take action accordingly," he said. Agrawal also hit out at the attempts to "threaten" Leader of Opposition in the Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy and demanded an investigation into what he called the failure of Kalaburagi district administration, including the DC and SP.

'CONG RESPONSIBLE FOR UNREST'

BJP General Secretary Radha Mohan Das Agrawal blamed the Congress for the unrest in Dakshina Kannada. "In the last two years, the Muslim League has been running the government in Karnataka," he said in Bengaluru. "SDPI and PFI government is here.This will upset others. According to our ground survey, we are going to win 150 to 155 seats if polls are held now. If Congress does not stop appeasement politics, the number will go up," Agrawal said.

Dinesh blames Sangh Parivar for vitiating atmosphere in DK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

KARNATAKA Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao accused the Sangh Parivar of creating a divisive and communal atmosphere in Dakshina Kannada, holding it responsible for the recent serial killings in Mangaluru.

Dinesh, who is also Dakshina Kannada district in-charge minister, accused the Sangh Parivar of exploiting incidents of violence for political gain. "They have no control over their words and continue to make provocative statements. Even in times of tragedy, they engage in politics over dead bodies," Dinesh told media persons in Shivamogga. He said that the recent killings in Dakshina Kannada were driven by communal hatred and revenge, leading to fear and unrest in the coastal district. "Such incidents tarnish the image of not just the district but the entire state," the minister said.

Referring to the recent murder in Bantwal, Dinesh said, "The police have leads on who is behind the crimes and are confident of arresting all those involved." He said communalism has poisoned the atmosphere in Dakshina Kannada and warned that such a situation could deter investment in the region. "People think they can get away with anything under the banner of Hindutva. They believe even killing someone will be justified if it is done in the name of their ideology. This has become their political capital," he said. To counter communal polarisation, the state government is planning to establish an Anti-Communal Force in Dakshina Kannada, he said, adding that the government is taking both legal and social reform measures to address "hate-driven violence." Responding to criticism of law enforcement, Rao said there was no failure on the part of the police. "It is impossible to provide individual protection to everyone," he said.

On the Suhas Shetty case, Dinesh said the accused had been arrested. "A murder is a murder, regardless of caste or religion," he said.

Sections 103, 109, 118(1), 118(2), 190, 191(1), 191(2) and 191(3) of BNS have been invoked against the accused.

ADGP (L&O) R Hithendra, camping in Dakshina Kannada district, said five special teams have been formed to nab the culprits. He appealed to the people to maintain peace and not to heed to rumours. He warned strict action against those posting inflammatory messages on social media.

According to a complaint filed by Mohammed Nisar, he received a phone call at 3 pm from one Mustafa who informed him about the assault on Abdul Rahiman (32) and Kalander Shafi (29) with a talwar (sword) at Ira Kodi. When Nisar reached the spot at 3.45 pm, he found Rahiman on the ground near one Rajivi's house with grievous injuries on his head, neck and other parts of the body. Shafi who was sitting besides Rahiman was grievously injured in the neck, back and hand and was shifted to a private hospital in an ambulance.

On the way to the hospital, Shafi told Nisar that they were unloading sand near Rajivi's house from their pick-up vehicle when a gang of 15 persons attacked Rahiman with a talwar, knife and rod after pulling him out of the vehicle. When Shafi tried to stop them, he too was attacked with the talwar. When some passersby raised an alarm, the assailants fled the spot. Shafi said the assailants were known to him.

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara met AICC General Secretaries, KC Venugopal (Organisation) and Randeep Singh Surjewala (Karnataka in-charge), separately and discussed the recent political developments While Shivakumar met them for over an hour on Tuesday night, Dr Parameshwara held talks with the two central leaders on Wednesday, sources told TNIE.

During the meeting, Shivakumar insisted that the power sharing agreement should be honoured and Siddaramaiah should demit office after completing his two-and-a-half-year tenure in October 2025, highly placed sources said.

There is also talk within the party that AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge and LoP in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi are likely to take a decision on changing CM, a senior Congress leader said. "That is why the two general secretaries did not meet Siddaramaiah. They restricted themselves to addressing issues impacting the party and government," he added.

But the recent ED raid on educational institutions linked to Parameshwara with regard to the Ranya Rao gold smuggling case may have come up for discussion, party sources said. Shivakumar, after meeting Parameshwara soon after the raids, had said the home minister had gifted Ranya Rao Rs 40 lakh, but the statement had not gone down well with several Congress leaders, including Dr Parameshwara, the sources said.

Venugopal and Surjewala also met the aspirants for MLC elections, as four seats have been vacant for over seven months. A Congress leader said, "The announcement might get delayed further as party men are against the names of three nominees who are not party members."

A Mahila court in Chennai on Wednesday convicted the sole accused, A Gnanasekaran, in the case of rape of an Anna University student inside the institute's campus on December 23, 2024.

The court had framed charges against Gnanasekaran under Sections 329, 126 (2), 87, 127 (2), 75 (2) r/w 75 (i), (ii), (iii), 76, 64 (1), 351 (3), 238 (b) of BNS and BNSS, Section 66 of the IT Act, and Section 4 of the Tamil Nadu Prevention of Women Harassment Act. The charges pertain to rape, sexual harassment, wrongful confinement, abduction of a woman, and criminal trespass. He was convicted on all 11 counts. The court will pronounce the quantum of sentence on June 2.

Gnanasekaran, a biryani vendor who is an accused in multiple cases of theft and other offences, pleaded not guilty. After judge Rajalakshmi announced the conviction, Gnanasekaran pleaded for a lenient sentence, saying that he had to take care of his mother and young daughter.

The case came to light after the survivor lodged a complaint at the Kotturpuram All-Women police station alleging that Gnanasekaran threatened her when she was with a male friend within the campus, assaulted her, and forced her to perform sexual acts.

Police sources said that Gnanasekaran had recorded the assault on his mobile phone, which he attempted to use to blackmail the girl to stop her from reporting the incident. The student, however, came forward and filed a complaint. The accused was soon arrested by the Greater chennai police.

Meanwhile, the FIR pertaining to the case was illegally downloaded from the state police's CCTNS portal and was broadcast by certain sections of the media which created a furore. Subsequently, the Madras High Court transferred the case to an all-woman Special Investigation Team (SIT), which also probed the FIR 'leak'.

MoEFCC: Sharavathi project can't be cleared, compensatory land inadequate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE recently submitted site inspection report by the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change of India (MoEFCC) on the Sharavathi Pumped Storage Hydroelectric Project in Shivamogga district stated that the project cannot be cleared as the compensatory land offered is not adequate. Moreover, the project will lead to major landslides and destruction of the Western Ghats.

The report has come at a time when the Karnataka State Disaster Management Authority has listed Shivamogga as one of the districts vulnerable to landslides and floods with increasing development activities.

"As the project involves steep slope-cutting of up to 60 degrees, formation of new roads, widening of existing roads, felling of over 15,000 trees and blasting of sub-surface rocks, high rainfall coupled with exposure of steep slopes and soil would make the region vulnerable to landslides," the report said

The project will have two reservoirs. Drilling and blasting of rocks for construction of 500-metre deep 3.2km nine-diametre underground tunnels will be disastrous not only for the ecology, but also for human habitations, the report stated.

A team from MoEFCC visited the project sites from May 7-9. The state's Energy Department had submitted a proposal to the Karnataka Forest and Environment Department and to MoEFCC seeking clearance for diversion of 54.155 hectares of forestland in Sagar, Shivamogga and Honnavar forest divisions for the project to generate and store 2000MW of power. The project is being executed by Karnataka Power Corporation Limited (KPCL).

The Western Ghats region is an important watershed for peninsular India. The region has 37 west-flowing and three east-flowing rivers. The central part of the Western Ghats is known for cultivation of paddy, coffee, tea, cardamom, pepper, arecanut and other crops. "No studies have been conducted to determine the impact of such projects on the region," the report stated.

The team pointed out that over 18,000 hectares of forestland has been leased in the past to KPCL for various projects in Uttara Kannada. But now, ecological factors outweigh the economic factors listed out.

A senior official from Karnataka said, "The report has rejected a proposal for forest clearance for the project. A team from the National Board for Wildlife is yet to inspect the project sites. Though the state wildlife board cleared the project with certain conditions, it is known that it was done under pressure. The lion-tailed macaque habitat is Centrally recognised and cannot be damaged. There are also Supreme Court orders in various cases on habitat protection and improvement."

EXTREME WEATHER NO LONGER AN EXCUSE FOR INFRASTRUCTURE FAILURES

WHEN it became clear last weekend that the southwest monsoon would arrive on the west coast more than a week earlier than usual, it evoked cheers at first. Relief from heat and better hope for crops were on everyone's mind. But the feeling soon turned to despair as civic infrastructures collapsed in Bengaluru and Mumbai, while Delhi found it difficult to stay functional as it got deluged by western disturbance. Records were broken as Mumbai witnessed 295 mm of rain in a day and Delhi logged 81.4 mm, making this May the national capital's wettest on record. What became starkly apparent is that we can no longer blame extreme climatic events for our infrastructure failures.

It's no longer enough for municipal officials and politicians to raise their arms in helplessness when our urban growth engines are halted more often with every passing year. It's not just about flooded areas. There are horrific tragedies of people getting washed away in drains, electrocuted by fallen power lines or crushed under falling trees. There are also the travails of marooned citizens, power outages, contaminated drinking water and damaged vehicles. Educational institutes are shut, public transport is paralysed and work is affected. Mumbai's flooded metro stations and Delhi's inundated airport disrupted the schedules of tens of thousands of citizens.

It's time to question who is accountable for the mess resulting from faulty planning and where the solutions lie. Many of our city corporations are wealthy—the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation, for one, has a budget of ₹74,427 crore this year. Some of these cities boast of triple-engine governments, but have little to show by way of critical governance. Some of the causes are known: outdated drainage systems, uncleared garbage and silt, encroached wetlands and unplanned growth. Despite this, corporations have no battle plans in place. Some of the oldest conurbations in the subcontinent—in the Indus Valley and Keezhadi—had some of the world's most sophisticated water management systems for millenniums. But while we thump our chests out of regional pride in the 21st century, we cannot bring ourselves to demand and ensure basic civic infrastructure for some of our largest cities. It's the citizens who bear the brunt, with the poorest hit the hardest. With extreme weather events having become the norm, all three levels of government in India need to shake off their apathy and work on long-term solutions. We surely deserve better.

FOREST RANGERS DESERVE BETTER PROTECTION

THE brutal killing of an on-duty forest guard by poachers in Odisha is another rude reminder of the grave vulnerabilities frontline forest workers face in India. Prahallad Pradhan, 37, was leading a 13-strong patrolling team when he fell to bullets from a group of four hunters in Dhenkanal district in the wee hours of Saturday. Pradhan had received the best forest guard award from the state government earlier this year. He is among the growing list of guardians of the forests who are under constant attack from organised gangs—wildlife criminals, or stone, sand and timber smugglers. Earlier in May, a team in Rajasthan's Sariska Tiger Reserve faced a violent mob when they tried to stop illegal encroachment, leaving some members seriously hurt. Jharkhand's Palamu district reported a series of such attacks from the local sand mafia. If their back-breaking work in hostile terrains, often under the fear of animal attacks, is not tough enough, their expanding role has made them even more vulnerable. According to a 2017 study, forest rangers in India faced the highest number of attacks among all countries.

Odisha had witnessed multiple murderous attacks in 2023, forcing the previous state government to provide legal immunity as well as firearms to the forest staff. There have also been intense debates on arming rangers, given their work involves continuing engagement with forest-dwelling communities as well as wildlife. The counter-argument is about how they would stand up to organised mafia, which is far more equipped. Pradhan was armed with a pump-action gun, but was shot before he could use it. It is necessary for the frontline staff to receive continuous training for such operations, which is not the case at present. It's even more important to address grave infrastructure gaps and poor living conditions they have to make do with. Deployment of ambulance, protective gears such as bullet-proof vests and modern sensors must be seriously considered.

The government must also fill the large vacancies at the ground level that leave those at work severely burdened. Providing one-time compensation to the bereaved families is not enough, as such tragedies leave the fraternity de-motivated. Comprehensive social security for them should become the norm across states. As they preserve our natural wealth, these environment warriors are also soldiers India must protect.

QUICK TAKE

NO RESPITE AFTER 600 DAYS

ISRAEL'S carnage in Gaza has marked a grim milestone: 600 days of war. Despite desperate calls from the international community, Benjamin Netanyahu's government is in no mood to relent. Even as the UN and the new pope renewed their pleas to end the violence, Israeli forces killed dozens of famished aid seekers this week. But something seems to have turned among some Western nations that provided arms and diplomatic cover to Israel during most of these 600 days. After Britain, France and Canada called for allowing food aid through, Germany for the first time repudiated Israel's barbarity. What remains is for the US to change its tune. Without that, the rest will remain a cacophonic chorus.

Though only 3 months old, president's rule in Manipur has not yet been able to re-establish the moral authority that 2 years of violence undermined. The state remains a tinderbox

WHERE NEITHER LOVE NOR FEAR HOLDS GROUND

MANDAR PARDIKAR

IT'S amply evident in the manner Manipur remains unable to free itself from the conflict trap that a zero-sum game cannot resolve the crisis. Only a situation that leaves no stakeholder with a sense of defeat or humiliation can pave the way for lasting peace.

Unfortunately, what often ends up lacking in a conflict is a magnanimous gift that humans are supposed to be endowed with—"moral imagination", as explained by conflict scholar John Paul Lederach. It's the ability to empathise that makes a human capable of identifying with the pains and joys of other humans, thereby discovering the universality of the human predicament—foremost in tragedy, but also in triumph.

Two years since the violent feud between the Meiteis and Kuki-Zo groups of tribes broke out in Manipur, and three months after the state's BJP government was kept under animated suspension for president's rule to take over, the conflict remains unresolved. It must, however, be said that news of gun attacks, which once routinely rattled everybody's sense of calm and security, have now waned.

The guns may have fallen silent, but this is hardly all there is to peace—for the guns are still in the hands they shouldn't be in. When the president's rule was imposed in the state three months ago, the public expectation was that there would be a comprehensive crackdown on both sides of the divide. They had also expected all highways to be opened on both sides so that the buffer zones created at the time of the violent clashes would cease to be.

During the two years of mayhem that occurred while a popular government was in charge, the wide perception was that the state's authority had evaporated. The expectation was that the president's rule, free of the pulls and pressures of pleasing electoral constituencies, would be able to reestablish the moral authority of the state. It would be unfair to say that the rule has failed given that it is only three months old—but the fact remains that the state's authority is still not very clearly visible.

In The Prince, Niccolo Machiavelli said a leader must win both the love and the fear of his people; but if keeping both becomes impossible, he cannot afford to let go of the fear. In Manipur today, those entrusted with the authority of the state, are continually losing the love as well as the fear of its subjects. This cannot be anything, but a recipe for disaster.

A lull in violence has not meant the conflict has ended. The grounds are still covered with dry cinders and tensions remain high. A single spark can therefore reignite another inferno. A surge of unrest that the state has been witnessing since May 20 is a manifestation of this.

A group of journalists from Imphal, together with members of the state's department of information and public relations, were headed to Shirui village in Ukhrul district in a Manipur State Transport bus to cover the opening of the annual Shirui Lily Festival by Governor Ajay Kumar Bhalla when they were stopped by the 4-Mahar Regiment soldiers posted at Gwaltabi village in the foothills 26 km from Imphal.

The soldiers told the journalists they would not be allowed to proceed unless the word Manipur in the signage prominently displayed on the bus was concealed; the soldiers went ahead covering it. The altercation that followed delayed the bus, and as a result, the journalists could not reach the venue in time to cover the governor's event. Moreover, they felt outraged and insulted that the word 'Manipur' was disallowed within the state's territory, and they walked back to their bases.

In Imphal, the journalist fraternity took out a protest march to the Raj Bhavan and submitted a memorandum seeking explanation. The assumption is that the soldiers were merely carrying out the government order. The protest, however, has spiralled to become a full-blown crisis, with people demanding a public apology from the governor.

It is quite possible that the order to have the word Manipur hidden had no mala fide intentions. Earlier, some Kuki groups had threatened dire consequences to Meiteis travelling along the Ukhrul road, but they had to retract the threat after not just the government, but also the Nagas warned them not to dare disrupt traffic to the Shirui Lily Festival.

Indications are that the government was providing a respectable exit ramp for Kukis to withdraw quietly from their earlier posturing. But the unforgivable blunder was in the way this understanding was executed. The modus operandi should have been for all these negotiated understandings to be put into effect quietly and without fanfare. By inter-departmental communications and understanding, had private vehicles been hired and used for these movements, things probably would have remained normal.

But this caution was thrown to the wind and the government came to be seen as indulging in indiscreet and extremely provocative action by the soldiers on the ground. The extremely vulgar and shocking optics the execution of the order ended up generating is at the core of the current public outrage, that too at a time the state and its people are in an extremely sensitive position. The remedial action is obvious. There must be complete transparency on the matter. The governor should explain what the intent was and what went wrong, and who caused this wrong to happen wilfully or otherwise. Such a response should pave the way for defusing the crisis.

There are a few more lessons from this sorry episode. One is that geography is destiny and those within an integral geography have to learn to accommodate each other for peace to prevail. They have to understand that periodic readjustments to conform to the changing demands of the times are a prerequisite, and that the aggregate of the little sacrifices each party makes to accommodate each other is the guarantee of freedom for all.

Lastly, in any genuine initiative to resolve conflicts, the idea of giving all parties in the conflict honourable exit routes is important. If pushed too far into a corner, even a harmless kitten can get aggressive and dangerous.

RACE TO THE END OF THE EARTH

KAJAL BASU

THE US is hoping that new findings of gargantuan lithium reserves in its mainland will upend the global alternative energy order, in the service of which lithium demand is forecast to reach 1.4 million metric tonnes (mmt) this year.

The battle unfolding so far in the lithium rechargeable battery market is between the US and China. Two years ago, at 6.8 mmt, China had 73.5 percent more lithium than the US. But this was upended by the announcement by the US Geological Survey (USGS) late last year of the Smackover Formation in Arkansas, estimated to hold 5-19 mmt, nine times the global lithium demand until 2030. Then followed the announcement of a deposit of 20-40 mmt in the McDermitt Caldera at the Oregon-Nevada border. A near-simultaneous report came in of 18 mmt beneath the Salton Sea, California's largest lake.

The maths is daunting and peculiarly imprecise. According to the January 2025 USGS report, "Measured and indicated lithium resources in the US… are 19 million tons." But, going by just the three finds mentioned, the US has 43-57 mmt (1 American ton = 0.91 metric tonne). Which figure is correct? Meanwhile, the China Geological Survey estimates 44 mmt of lithium in the country across Sichuan, Qinghai, Jiangxi, and the Xinjiang Uygur and Inner Mongolia autonomous regions.

The global demand for lithium is forecast to reach 2.5-3.1 mmt by 2030. Climate projection by the Paris-based International Energy Agency has it that lithium supply will have to power 230 million electric vehicles by 2030. According to the USGS report, "Lithium resources have increased substantially worldwide and total about 115 million tons".

Between them, the US and China say they have 87-101 mmt—or up to 97 percent more than the world will need even in 2030. So the world is going to be drowning in lithium, but the odds are that lithium will be replaced by a friendlier alternative, hydrogen, before the half-century is out.

Meanwhile, claims about lithium have become as political as mineralogical. Aching to lose its dependency on a lithium supply chain dominated by China—which supplies 80 percent of the world's cell batteries and nearly 60 percent of its EV batteries—Donald Trump ordered an investigation into potential new tariffs on all US critical minerals imports in April and fast-tracked 10 mining projects, including two on lithium. The same month, the Export-Import Bank—the US government's official export credit agency—sent a letter of interest worth $900 million to a company to expand a mining project in Nevada, where the only lithium mine in the US has been operating since the 1960s. The $2-billion Thacker Pass project, supported by the US department of energy, is to start operations in McDermitt Caldera in 2026.

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

The US-China fight over securing lithium supplies is as much about geopolitics as mineralogy. Massive new deposits found in the US may upend global supply chains. But demand calculations and new interest from Big Oil may soon transform the race

The US has a long way to go before it can catch up with China in the 'Lithium Valley'. An Atlantic Council article partly explained why: "According to a 2021 White House Report, the Chinese government funnelled $100 billion in subsidies, rebates, and tax exemptions to Chinese companies and consumers between 2009 and 2019 to dominate the global lithium refining industry, before global demand for lithium soared."

Compounding geopolitics is the fact that many countries have lithium reserves, although few so far have the technological wherewithal to mine it. According to the January 2025 USGS report, the largest resources are distributed as follows: Argentina, 23 million tons; Bolivia, 23 million tons; Chile, 11 million tons; Australia, 8.9 million tons; China, 6.8 million tons; Canada, 5.7 million tons; Germany, 4 million tons; Congo, 3 million tons; Mexico, 1.7 million tons; Brazil, 1.3 million tons; Czechia, 1.3 million tons; Mali, 1.2 million tons; Serbia, 1.2 million tons; Peru, 1 million tons; Russia, 1 million tons…" These are the splinters that the US wants out of its global foot.

Although it has aided few in lithium mining technology, China has looped in countries, especially in Africa and South America, into its global supply chain. What the US intends to do is cut these countries out by building its own internal supply chain for its very own battery-powered products.

The US has a problem that China does not: opposition from human rights organisations and autochthonous communities impacted by the enormous environmental impact of critical mineral mining. In 2023, the People of Red Mountain website exhorted against lithium mining. "The landscapes of the McDermitt Caldera are all significant to Native American Tribes. This is especially true for the Fort McDermitt Paiute, Shoshone, and Bannock. The Caldera holds many first foods, medicines, and hunting grounds for tribal people both past and present. The global search for lithium has become a form of 'green' colonialism. The people most connected to the land suffer while those severed from it benefit."

But expect these humanist concerns to be ignored, because Big Oil is weighing in. In August 2023, Exxon Mobil's CEO was reported telling analysts that the oil company "can produce lithium 'at a much lower cost' than traditional mining". Chevron has said such efforts "fit within the company's "core capabilities". Lithium is found in saltwater deposits and oilfield brine, byproducts of crude extraction. Big Oil sees profit in taking the big leap. (Views are personal)

Increased MSP for Kharif crops

Cabinet okays transport infra projects worth over ₹7K cr, says I&B Minister Aswini Vaishnaw

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved a hike in the Minimum Support Price (MSP) for the 2025-26 Kharif season and extended the interest subvention scheme for farmers. It also approved two multi-tracking railway projects in Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh, as well as a four-lane highway project in Andhra Pradesh.

The Cabinet approved a hike in paddy MSP by three percent or ₹69 per quintal to ₹2,369 for the 2025-26 Kharif season and up to nine percent rise in rates of pulses and oilseeds, according to Union Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw. The cost to the exchequer of the MSP decision is ₹2,07,000 crore, and continuation of the subvention scheme will cost ₹15,642 crore.

The announcement comes amid the southwest monsoon reaching earlier than usual, giving a boost to the sowing of kharif crops, which contribute over 50 per cent of India's total annual foodgrain production.

Under the Modified Interest Subvention Scheme (MISS) for 2025-26, farmers will continue to receive short-term credit at an affordable rate through the Kisan Credit Card (KCC). The continuation of the scheme will cost exchequer ₹15,640 crore, the Minister said.

Under MISS, farmers get short-term loans of up to ₹3 lakh through KCC at a subsidised interest rate of 7 percent, with 1.5 percent interest subvention provided to eligible lending institutions.

Additionally, farmers who repay loans promptly are eligible for an incentive of up to 3 percent as the Prompt Repayment Incentive (PRI), effectively reducing their interest rate on KCC loans to 4 percent.

However, for loans taken exclusively for animal husbandry or fisheries, the interest benefit is applicable up to ₹2 lakh. No changes have been proposed to the structure or other components of the scheme, which covers over 7.75 crore KCC accounts in the country.

On the infrastructure front, the government approved over ₹7,000 crore for various projects, including a four-lane road project on the Badvel-Nellore National Highway in Andhra Pradesh, the four-laning of the 135-km Wardha-Ballarshah rail line in Maharashtra, and the 41-km Ratlam-Nagda line in Madhya Pradesh.

The two railway multi-tracking projects, costing approximately ₹3,399 crore, will add about 176 km to the existing Indian Railways' network across four districts in Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh, he said.

He stated that the rail projects will enhance line capacity, enabling faster and seamless movement of passengers and goods, and improve connectivity for approximately 784 villages with a combined population of nearly 19.74 lakh.

The Badvel-Nellore project in Andhra Pradesh will cost ₹3,653.10 crore for the construction of a 108.134-km 4-lane highway corridor under the Design-Build-Finance-Operate-Transfer model. "This corridor will connect important nodes on the Visakhapatnam-Chennai, Hyderabad-Bengaluru and Chennai-Bengaluru industrial corridors and provide strategic access to the Krishnapatnam Port," he said.

Govt raises concern as 3 Indians go missing in Iran

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

THREE Indians who had travelled to Iran — from Punjab's Sangrur, Hoshiarpur and SBS Nagar — are missing, the Indian Embassy in Tehran has confirmed, adding that efforts are on to trace them "urgently". The three missing men have been identified as: Hushanpreet Singh (Sangrur), Jaspal Singh (SBS Nagar) and Amritpal Singh (Hoshiarpur). They all went missing on May 1, shortly after landing in Tehran.

"Family members of 3 Indian citizens have informed the Embassy of India that their relatives are missing after having travelled to Iran. The Embassy has strongly taken up this matter with the Iranian authorities, and requested that the missing Indians should be urgently traced and their safety should be ensured," the Indian Embassy said in a statement.

The Embassy added that it is "keeping the family members regularly updated" of the efforts being made by it.

An agent in Punjab had promised the three men to send them to Australia via the Dubai-Iran route. He reportedly assured them that they will be provided a stay in Iran. But soon after they landed in Iran on May 1, they were kidnapped. The kidnappers, said the families, demanded a ransom of ₹1 crore.

A video of the men tied up in yellow ropes and blood dripping from their arms was sent by the kidnappers, said the families. They threatened to kill the men if money was not sent, the families added.

The victims used to talk to their family members through the phones of the kidnappers. Since May 11, the families have not been in contact with them. The agent from Hoshiarpur who sent the men abroad is reportedly missing. The family has also lodged a police complaint against him. The grieving families had been speaking with the men during the first few days after they were allegedly kidnapped, but they have not got a chance to speak to them again since May 11.

Meanwhile, the family members of Hoshiarpur's Amritpal, one of the missing men, have also met Punjab Cabinet Minister Kuldeep Singh Dhaliwal and Hoshiarpur MP Dr Rajkumar, requesting them to help bring their children back home safely.

This came months after hundreds of Indian nationals, most of them from Punjab, who were sent to the US via the Dunki route, were deported to India

Plans to counter 'Dark Patterns' used by online platforms soon

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

UNION Minister for Consumer Affairs, Food, and Public Distribution, Prahlad Joshi has instructed all e-commerce companies to conduct self-audits to analyse and eliminate Dark Patterns to comply with consumer protection regulations. This directive follows a stakeholder meeting held in Delhi.

There has been a notable increase in consumer complaints regarding Dark Patterns reported on the National Consumer Helpline, which prompted the minister to take action.

The stakeholder meeting aimed to develop more effective strategies to address manipulative design practices used by digital platforms. Joshi also proposed the formation of a joint working group to educate e-commerce companies about these issues.

A "Dark Pattern" refers to a deceptive design technique employed in user interfaces (such as web pages) that misleads users or coerces them into making unintended choices. This practice undermines consumer autonomy, decision-making, and overall choice.

Some examples of dark patterns include making it difficult for consumers to understand or cancel transactions, and employing features like infinite scrolling, autoplay videos, or constant notifications. Government has identified 13 specific dark patterns. The Department of Consumer Affairs on Wednesday convened the meeting representatives of all stakeholders, including major e-commerce companies such as Amazon, Swiggy, Flipkart, Zomato, MakeMyTrip, Meta, WhatsApp, Ola, and Apple, as well as industry associations, Voluntary Consumer Organisations, and National Law Universities, for a talk on eliminating deceptive online practices.

The government has already developed detailed guidelines to address Dark Patterns. He urged all companies to fully comply with the guidelines and integrate them into their internal governance and consumer protection mechanisms.

Recently, the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) issued a notice to taxi and bike aggregator companies Uber and Rapido for allegedly pressuring users to pay a tip in advance for faster service.

Joshi stated that such practices are considered "unfair trade" and must be stopped. He emphasised that tipping should be optional, with consumers deciding the amount based on their service experience.

After an online survey in 392 districts and consulting 2.30 lakh consumers, LocalCircles, which raises consumer awareness, reports that Edtech, Travel, Airlines, eCommerce, Quick Commerce, Online Banking & Payments, taxi Apps, and OTT platforms have reported highest number of Dark Patterns.

SC extends interim bail to Ashoka univ prof

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday extended till July the interim bail of Ashoka University professor Ali Khan Mahmudabad and directed the Haryana police SIT to complete its investigation by then in connection with his alleged contentious social media posts on Operation Sindoor.

A bench of Justices Surya Kant and Dipankar Datta restricted the scope of the SIT probe to the two FIRs lodged against Mahmudabad. "We direct that the investigation of SIT be confined to contents of the two FIRs. The investigation report, before it is filed before jurisdictional court, be produced before this court," said the bench.

Directing that the interim protection continue till further orders, the top court asked Haryana to inform whether they have responded to the NHRC notice on the manner of registration of 2 FIRs against Mahmudabad.

During the hearing, senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for Mahmudabad, requested the top court for deletion of an interim bail condition restraining him from posting on social media anything relating to issues in the FIRs. "There is apprehension that the SIT may investigate other things as well," Sibal told the top court. The top court declined to allow the prayer.

The bench told the Haryana Advocate General that as the two FIRs were concerned with the subject matter of the present case, the scope of the probe can't be expanded. Sibal further insisted that the court direct the authorities not to seek access to Mahmudabad's digital devices. The court refrained to pass any order in the issue. "Both FIRs are matter of record. What is the need for devices? The SIT is free to form opinion. Don't go left and right," the bench told Sibal and fixed the matter for further hearing after July.

On May 21, the apex court granted interim bail to Mahmudabad, who was arrested for his social media posts on Operation Sindoor. It, however, refused to stay the two FIRs registered by Haryana Police against him in the matter.

The Bench had earlier ordered formation of an SIT to probe the matter. "The SIT will not have officers from Haryana or Delhi," Justice Kant had said.

Mahmudabad had moved the top court challenging his arrest for a Facebook post on India's retaliatory strike against Pakistan for the Pahalagam terror attack.

Bail for in rape case: 'Charges not framed'
SC on Wednesday gave interim bail to a 23-year-old accused of raping a 40-year-old, saying charges had not been framed though he has been in jail for nine months. It said the woman was "not a baby" and "a single hand can't clap". It asked how Delhi Police could file a rape case when the woman had gone voluntarily with him.

'Close proceedings in HC against minister'
The SC on Wednesday ordered closure of proceedings before the MP High Court against state minister Vijay Shah for his remarks against Col Sofiya Qureshi, saying it is now looking into the matter. The court asked for a status report from the SIT formed by the MP government in compliance with its earlier order.

Probe encounter cases, Assam rights panel told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday directed the Assam Human Rights Commission (AHRC) to conduct an independent probe into police encounter cases where proper procedure was allegedly not followed in the state between May 2021 and August 2022.

A bench of Justices Surya Kant and N Kotiswar Singh said that the records furnished by the Assam government themselves indicate that some instances may warrant further evaluation to ascertain whether the guidelines laid down in the 2014 verdict of PUCL versus the state of Maharashtra have been meticulously complied with, in both letter and spirit.

The court gave the order while disposing of a plea that sought an independent investigation into over 171 police encounters in Assam between May 2021 and August 2022.

The SC said its observation that Assam has not followed the guidelines should not be construed as casting any aspersion on the state's investigation.

Food grain production all set to score new record

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE data of the third advanced estimate of food grain production shows a 6.5% record increase in major crops compared to last year. Union Minister of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare Shivraj Singh Chouhan announced that the country's food grain production reached 3539.59 lakh metric tonnes (LMT) in 2024-25, which is 216.61 LMT higher than last year's (2023-24) 3322.98 LMT.

Data shows a record production of rice, wheat, maize, soybean, rapeseed, mustard, and sugarcane. "The third estimated production of major crops such as paddy, wheat, soybean, groundnuts, oilseeds, and pulses is going to be a record," said Chouhan.

The data from the third estimation will be further revised in coming months to obtain the final and fourth round production estimations.

The data released by Chouhan shows that rice production reached 1490.74 LMT, which is 112 LMT than the previous year. Wheat production estimation is 1175.07 LMT, higher by 42.15 LMT compared to the previous year's. Coarse grains production reached 621.40 LMT, higher by 52.04 LMT.

The data further shows that total pulse production is estimated at 252.38 LMT, higher by 9.92 LMT than the previous year's. Moong production reached 38.19 LMT against last year's 35.61 LMT. The estimated production of oilseeds may reach 426.09 LMT, which is 29.40 LMT higher than last year.

Soybean and groundnut production is estimated at 151.80 LMT and 118.96 LMT, which is 21.18 LMT and 17.16 LMT higher than previous year's. The production of rapeseed and mustard reached 126.06 LMT.

Wheat stock limit fixed till Mar '26 amid bumper crop

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday imposed a stock limit on wheat until March 31, 2026 amid claims of bumper production in the current Rabi marketing season compared to the past three years. Bulk traders can now stock 3,000 metric tones (MT), while retailers can hold up to 10 MT of the grain, a Centre's notification said.

For millers and processors, the government allowed a stock limit of 70% of the monthly installed capacity multiplied by the remaining months. The order directed the commercial entities to declare the stock position on the portal created by the department of food and public distribution.

It also said that in case any entity stocked higher than the prescribed limits, they should bring it down to the specified limit within 15 days of issuing the notification. They should ensure that wheat stock is regularly declared.

Food market experts are surprised by the order. "It shows that claim of bumper production is questionable," said Sandeep Bansal of Grain Flour India Pvt. Ltd.

Recently, the government said food inflation is at its lowest level in six years, and that it may consider removing the export ban. However, government officials said the wheat procurement has not reached the given target despite an all-out effort. So far the government procured 298.17 LMT wheat against the target of 332.7 LMT.

Like in previous years, the contribution of Punjab, Madhya Pradesh, Haryana, and Rajasthan dominated the procurement season. However, the UP contributed only around 10 LMT against the target of 30 LMT. Bihar contributed nearly 18,000 tonnes against 2 LMT.

"The lower contribution from Uttar Pradesh has hit the total procurement," said a senior official at the ministry.

'Flop C-grade movie': Gogoi slams Himanta remarks on wife's Pak ties

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE newly appointed president of Assam Congress Gaurav Gogoi on Wednesday hit out at Assam chief minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, who had alleged that the Deputy Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha and his wife had links with the Pakistani establishment.

Dismissing the allegations, Gogoi clarified that he had visited Pakistan only once, 12 years ago. He criticized the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) for sensationalizing the matter, likening their attempt to a "C-grade Bollywood movie" that he said is bound to "flop miserably."

"I would like to clarify that people of the state are not misled. About 14-15 years ago, my wife, who is a well-known expert in public policy, worked on an international project in South Asia focused on climate change," Gogoi said at a press conference.

Gogoi also asked why the BJP Government at the Centre had not acted for the last 11 years if there was any wrong doing. He further stated that Assam CM was making these allegations with the intention of creating doubts in the minds of the Congress leadership about his credentials but that had been decimated.

"Since then, she has continued her work and took a new job in 2015. I also remember going with her once in 2013. Their (the BJP's) job is defamation and by raking this issue they are creating this whole thing like a C-grade Bollywood movie which they have said would be released on September 10. But that is going to be a flop miserably," he said.

This is for the first time; the Congress was speaking on the allegations against him.

Cong demands clarity on US role in Pak ceasefire

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Wednesday demanded clarity on the United States' involvement in brokering a ceasefire with Pakistan during Operation Sindoor. Citing a statement made by US Commerce Secretary Howard Luttick before the Court of International Trade in New York, Congress General Secretary Jairam Ramesh called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi to end his silence on the Trump administration's repeated claims on how the India-Pakistan 'ceasefire' was brought about.

There was no immediate reaction from the government on it but it has maintained that India-Pakistan understanding on cessation of hostilities was arrived at following direct negotiations between the two sides.

ON FIRE

A fire broke out at an engineering college in Maharashtra's Navi Mumbai township, causing extensive damage to its administrative section and the principal's office, officials said on Wednesday.

PM's 4-state visit begins today, to address Bihar rally

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR AND RAMASHANKAR @ New Delhi/Patna

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi is set to embark on a two-day visit to four states, including poll-bound Bihar, from Thursday to launch numerous development projects, as he continues his intensive tour of the country in the run-up to the first anniversary of his third term in office.

According to PMO statement, Modi will visit Sikkim, West Bengal, Bihar, and Uttar Pradesh on May 29 and 30. He will attend the "Sikkim@50: Where Progress meets Purpose and Nature nurtures Growth" programme on Thursday and lay the foundation stone and inaugurate multiple development projects before addressing the gathering to mark 50 glorious years of Sikkim's statehood.

In West Bengal, he will lay the foundation stone for a City Gas Distribution (CGD) project in the Alipurduar and Cooch Behar districts. Later in the day, he will inaugurate the new terminal building at Patna Airport in Bihar, where assembly elections may be held by September or October. In Bihar, the PM will also lay the foundation stone of a new civil enclave at Bihta Airport, projected to be built at ₹1,410 crore.

On Friday, the PM will unveil and lay the foundation stone for development projects worth ₹48,520 crore in Karakat, Bihar. "As Bihar is under NDA rule and scheduled to go to polls this year, the PM will also address a public meeting after unveiling and laying the foundation of projects. He will highlight his government's resolve to fight against terrorism and poverty," said a BJP leader. In Bihar, the PM will also dedicate to the nation the third rail line between Sonnagar and Mohammad Ganj, built at ₹1,330 crore.

Deputy CM Samrat Choudhary said, "The PM will inaugurate and lay foundation stone of 16 projects worth over ₹50,000 crore during his two-day visit to Bihar." Bihar BJP president Dileep Jaiswal said, "The PM will be felicitated at 32 places during his roadshow in Patna on May 29."

While returning from Karakat, the Prime Minister will officiate the launch and foundation laying of various initiatives worth ₹20,900 crore in Kanpur Nagar, UP, and also address a public meeting, the PMO statement said.

Arms licences to indigenous people in Assam vulnerable areas

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

THE Assam government on Wednesday announced that it would give arms licences to indigenous people living in "vulnerable and remote areas."

Addressing a press conference after chairing a cabinet meeting, CM Himanta Biswa Sarma said that the arms licences would be given to tackle unlawful threats from hostile quarters. "Assam is a sensitive state. We have decided that we will give arms licence to eligible persons who are residing in remote, vulnerable and border areas. We will encourage our original inhabitants and indigenous Indian citizens to apply and take an arms licence as per eligibility provided in the Indian Arms Act," Sarma said.

He said the licences would be given under a "special scheme for grant of arms licences to original inhabitants and indigenous citizens in vulnerable and remote areas of Assam."

He said the indigenous people are in a minority in districts such as Dhubri, Nagaon, Morigaon, Barpeta, South Salmara and Goalpara and they always live in fear. They might face attacks from Bangladesh or in their own villages, he added.

"This is an old demand from people living in vulnerable and remote areas of the state. The demand had been there since the time of the Assam Agita

Impeach Justice Varma, says HC bar association

It is a step towards victory of public & the cause, says Allahabad bar

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CALLING the proposed impeachment motion to be brought against Justice Yashwant Varma over the alleged recovery of huge cache of cash from his residence in New Delhi, a step towards keeping people's faith in judiciary intact, the Allahabad High Court Bar Association on Wednesday welcomed the move and supported it.

Saying that people's trust was the foundation of the power of judiciary, Anil Tiwari, the president of the Allahabad High Court Bar Association, said that such a move would make the people feel that their voice was heard at the highest level. "It is a step towards the victory of the public and the cause," said Tiwari while appealing to all the political parties to vote in favour of the impeachment. Justice Varma had hogged the limelight when, on March 21, the media was replete with reports of a fire at a storeroom in the outhouse of his official bungalow and subsequent recovery of sacks of cash currencies.

The then Chief Justice of India, Justice Sanjiv Khanna, took cognisance of the matter and on March 22 initiated an in-house inquiry against the judge by a panel of three high court judges to examine the allegations against Justice Varma.

Justice Varma, however, denied possession of cash and claimed it to be a conspiracy against him.

On March 24, the Delhi High Court passed an order stripping Justice Varma of all the judicial work in pursuance of directions from the SC.

Subsequently, the Supreme Court collegium recommended transfer of Justice Varma to the Allahabad High Court. Amid strong opposition by the Bar Association, Justice Varma was administered oath by the Chief HJustice of the Allahabad High Court in his chamber on April 5, 2025.

Unlike the usual public oath-taking ceremonies organised for judges, an event attended by various dignitaries, Justice Varma took his oath in a private setting, within chamber.

Justice Varma, who originally belonged to the Allahabad High Court and took oath as judge here in 2014, was transferred to the Delhi High Court in 2021. However, after being transferred to the Allahabad High Court, the then CJI directed the Allahabad High Court Chief Justice not to assign judicial work to Justice Varma. Now the in-house inquiry panel of three high court judges has submitted its report to the Chief Justice of India, who, in turn, submitted it the President of India.

Cash recovered from judge's official house

Justice Yashwant Varma had hogged the limelight when, on March 21, the media was replete with reports of a fire at a storeroom in the outhouse of his official bungalow in New Delhi and subsequent recovery of sacks of cash currencies. The then CJI Justice Sanjiv Khanna on March 22 initiated an in-house inquiry against the judge by a panel of three HC judges to examine the charges against Justice Varma.

Shub din for Punjab as its 'puttar' takes lead

At 25, Shubman Gill has scripted history by becoming the first India Test captain from Punjab since Bishan Singh Bedi (1976-78). Gill, who is used to seeing fans go gaga over him in the stadium, has now become the cynosure of all eyes in the state's political circles. From Punjab Congress President Amarinder Singh Raja Warring to SAD chief Sukhbir Singh Badal, leaders cutting across party lines hailed him as the next big leader in the sport. "Heartiest congratulations to all Punjabis on our 'Punjab Da Puttar' @Shubmangill becoming India's new Test cricket captain!" Badal wrote on X.

AAP in dock over arrest of its MLA in graft case

Things looked up for AAP MLA from Jalandhar (Central) Raman Arora when he first stepped into politics. But in a dramatic fall from grace, he was recently arrested by the Punjab Vigilance Bureau in a corruption case. Far from being embarrassed by the legislator's arrest, AAP is seizing the development to score brownie points with voters, suggesting that the party is so upright that it doesn't even spare its own leaders found to be tainted. However, the party's Amritsar (North) MLA, former IPS officer Kunwar Vijay Pratap Singh, does not seem to buy it. Singh, who never shies away from pointing fingers at his own party, expressed concerns about Arora's proximity to CM Bhagwant Mann's family.

Cong legislature party leader not named yet

The Congress high command is in no hurry to name Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leader in Haryana. But Haryana Congress chief Udhay Bhan is still loyal to former CM Bhupinder Singh Hooda. As the meeting of the Haryana assembly selection committee was delayed due to non-availability of CLP leader for the selection of the state information commissioner, the BJP-led state government asked Bhan to nominate the seniormost leader to represent the party in the meeting. Bhan nominated Hooda for the meeting. The 3-member committee comprised of Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini, Hooda instead of leader of opposition and minister-in-charge.

Domicile policy to be introduced in Ladakh UT

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

AFTER Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory, the domicile policy would be introduced in Ladakh Union Territory with a 15 years timeline from 2019, said the Ladakh leaders after successful talks with centre.

This was agreed upon during High Powered Committee (HPC) meeting chaired by Union Minister of State (MoS) for Home Affairs Nityanand Rai and attended by representatives of Leh Apex Body (LAB) and Kargil Democratic Alliance (KDA), which is an amalgam of various political, social, trade and religious groups of Leh and Kargil districts of Ladakh UT, in New Delhi yesterday.

LAB executive member Chering Dorje said the MHA has agreed to a cap of 15 years for domicile in Ladakh UT and it would be notified by the central government within a week.

"15 years timeline has been fixed for a person to be treated as a domicile of Ladakh. It means a person would be required to live in Ladakh for 15 years prospectively from 2019. A person would qualify to be a domicile of Ladakh only in 2034. Till 2034, none can qualify to be a domicile of Ladakh," he said.

MahaYuti Maha crack widens as BJP plans to go solo in local body election

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN what could send its partners in Maharashtra's Mahayuti government, Shiv Sena and NCP, into a tizzy, the BJP is working on a plan to contest the upcoming local body elections in Maharashtra independently.

The BJP's idea reportedly is to expand its footprint in the state by having no truck with its allies. Union Home Minister Amit Shah met senior party leaders during his recent tour to Mumbai, where this decision was reportedly taken. Eknath Shinde of the Shiv Sena and Ajit Pawar of the Nationalist Congress Party are deputy chief ministers in the Devendra Fadnavis-led government.

Elections have been due for the last two to four years in more than 27 municipal corporations, including Asia's richest civic body — the BMC.

The Supreme Court recently asked the state election commission to conduct the local body elections within the next four months and requested that it declare the schedule as well.

In Thane, where Shinde has influence, the BJP will be the Sena's primary opponent. The saffron party will contest against Ajit Pawar's NCP in the Pune and Pimpri-Chinchwad regions. Sources said the meeting chaired by Shah underscored that the Mahayuti alliance should not restrict the BJP's growth in Maharashtra.

They explained the rationale behind the move: "BJP is the national party. The local body elections are the right platform and moment to expand the party's footprint and strengthen its network. Going solo in local body elections will serve as a dress rehearsal and help the BJP prepare for the 2029 assembly elections on its own.

The argument was that "the BJP is the single largest party with 132 MLAs in the 288-member assembly and will not need the help of alliance partners to return to power in 2029".

Govt suspends Fazilka SSP after arrest of 4 cops

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Punjab government on Wednesday suspended Senior Superintendent of Police of Fazilka, Varinder Singh Brar, a day after four personnel of the Cyber Crime Police Station were arrested on allegations of extortion from a minor accused.

An officer stated that action against Brar followed an investigation into allegations of corruption linked to the bribery case involving the four officers. The case came to light when Dharminder Singh, the father of a 17-year-old, approached Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann with evidence of bribe demands by the Cyber Crime Police Station, Fazilka.

The officers had confiscated the minor's phone following a Cyber Tipline complaint. The family had to pay an alleged bribe of ₹1 lakh, to settle the matter. "The minor boy had inadvertently accessed a porn site, and the policemen reportedly threatened the family to register an FIR on cybercrime charges unless the bribe was paid," he added.

Sources said Mann took a serious view of the lapses by Brar, who allegedly allowed the SHO and other staff of the cyber crime police station to act with impunity and demand a bribe.

NEET aspirant from J&K dies by suicide in Kota, 15th such incident in '25

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

EVEN after the Supreme Court reprimanded the Rajasthan government over the alarming rise in student suicides, the tragic trend in Kota continues. On Monday, an 18-year-old NEET aspirant from J&K died by suicide at a PG accommodation near Pratap Chowk, marking the 15th case of student suicide in Kota in 2025 alone.

According to Circle Inspector Ramesh Kaviya of Mahavir Nagar Police Station, the student, identified as Zeeshan, had spoken to one of her relatives on Sunday and expressed suicidal thoughts. Alarmed relative immediately contacted another student, Mamta, who lived in the same PG.

Mamta rushed to Zeeshan's room and found the door locked from the inside. She raised an alarm. With the help of others, the door was broken open, only to find Zeeshan had already taken the extreme step. She was rushed to a nearby hospital, where doctors declared her dead.

Police have confirmed that the ceiling fan in Zeeshan's room did not have an anti-hanging device installed—a mandatory safety mechanism designed to prevent suicides. These spring-based devices are supposed to disengage the fan when pressure is applied, preventing hanging attempts. Despite orders, such devices are missing in several hostels and PG accommodations.

The incident comes days after the SC took suo moto cognizance of the student suicide cases in Kota. On May 23, the bench described the situation as "deeply disturbing" and questioned the Rajasthan government's lack of effective intervention. "... What are you doing about this as a state? Why are students taking their own lives only in Kota? Why have you not given serious thought to this," the bench had asked.

After 3 decades, Prem Singh Rawat declared a 'martyr', U'khand elated

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

NEARLY three decades after he laid down his life for the nation's security, BSF Lance Naik Prem Singh Rawat has been accorded the 'martyr' status, evoking immense pride and emotion for his family and residents of his village.

The certificate honouring his martyrdom was presented by the Centre and BSF Directorate. Lance Naik Rawat, a resident of Rikosha village in Tarikhet block of Almora district, had joined the BSF in 1984. He was serving as a Lance Naik with the 57th Battalion, stationed at the critical Jalangi post along the India-Bangladesh border in South Bengal.

According to BSF sources, on August 23, 1994, Lance Naik Rawat displayed exemplary courage. During a fierce encounter with Bangladeshi smugglers, he fought bravely to protect the nation's security and died in the line of duty. "This moment fills us with immense pride and a deep sense of gratitude," a relative said. "While the wait was long, the recognition of his supreme sacrifice reaffirms that his bravery will never be forgotten. He is truly our hero."

Tears welled up in the eyes of Guddi Devi Rawat, who had cherished the memory of her husband's martyrdom for three decades, as she was handed the certificate recognising him as a martyr. "For so many years, we waited for the country to acknowledge his sacrifice. Today, with the government recognising him as a martyr, it feels our struggle and pain were not in vain. This is a matter of immense pride for our entire family," she said.

The martyr's younger brother, Dhan Singh Rawat, said," "There was always a pang, wondering if anyone would remember our brother. Now that the government has bestowed martyr status upon him, it feels as if the entire nation is saluting our brother."

Lance Naik Rawat's son, Suryapratap Rawat, said, "I never saw my father, but I grew up hearing tales of his bravery. Today, with him receiving martyr status, it feels as though my father's dream and our family's hope have been fulfilled."

56-yr-old clears Class X exam to get job regularised

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

A 56-year-old tribal, Ganga Oraon, has cleared the Class 10 board examination in Khunti, Jharkhand, to regularise his daily wage job.

Officials had repeatedly turned down the daily wager's application for not being a matriculate. He has been working at the District Superintendent of Education (DSE) Office in Khunti for the last 16 years.

Determined to do something about it, he sat for the Class 10 Jharkhand Academic Council (JAC) examination and secured 47.2 percent marks. The results came out on Tuesday.

A resident of Kalamati village under Sadar Block, Oraon always dreamt of completing his education to get a government job. However, poverty shattered his plans.

He was unable to sit for the matriculation examination in 1983-84 because he couldn't afford the registration fee of ₹40. He currently earns ₹9,000 a month. Fed up with the officials' excuses, he passed the Class 9 examination in 2024 and cleared the Class 10 board examination this year.

He said, "Now, I hope that my job will be regularised as they don't have any excuse. My entire family is happy that I have passed the matric exam." His four daughters, wife and his 80-year-old mother make up his family.

Interestingly, Ganga Oraon had also written a letter to the district officials in 2006-07 demanding a secondary and high school in his village. They eventually approved it.

"The entire village supported me in this mission, and within days, we cleared the hilly terrain and handed over the required land to the government. Happy with my efforts, the officials gave me the responsibility of overseeing the school's construction work," said Ganga Oraon. Later, in 2009, he applied for a daily wage job and got it, he added. He recalled the difficulties he faced for not being a matriculate, including his shattered dream of joining the Indian Army or the Jharkhand Police.

According to Oraon, he felt belittled because people in his village did not take him seriously or give him due respect for not being a matric pass.

Two of his daughters have passed Class 12, while the other two have cleared Class 10. They are also happy for their father.

"It is great news for all of us that despite all odds, my father ensured that all his daughters clear at least class 10 examination so that they are not counted among illiterates in society," said elder daughter Pramila Oraon.

District Education Officer (DEO) Aprupa Pal Chaudhary said, "In Khunti, where the student dropout rate is very high, a daily wage worker has made the entire district proud by passing the Class 10 board examination."

Netanyahu confirms Israel killed Hamas leader Sinwar

1 killed, 48 hurt when crowd was fired upon at chaotic Gaza aid site

DEIR AL-BALAH

A crowd was fired upon while overrunning a new aid-distribution site in the Gaza Strip set up by an Israeli and US-backed foundation, killing at least one Palestinian and wounding 48 others, Gaza's Health Ministry said Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said his country killed senior Hamas leader Mohammed Sinwar, apparently confirming his death in a recent airstrike in Gaza. Speaking before parliament, Netanyahu included Sinwar in a list of Hamas leaders killed in Israeli strikes. He was the brother of Yahya Sinwar, one of the masterminds of the militant group's October 7, 2023, attack, who was killed by Israeli forces last year.

The crowd of Palestinians broke through fences Tuesday around the distribution site where thousands had gathered. An Associated Press journalist heard Israeli tank and gunfire and saw a military helicopter firing flares. It was not clear whether Israeli forces, private contractors or others opened fire. The foundation said its military contractors had not fired on the crowd but "fell back" before resuming aid operations. Israel said its nearby troops had fired warning shots. In a separate development, Israel carried out airstrikes Wednesday on the international airport in Yemen's capital, Sanaa, destroying the last plane belonging to the country's flagship airline. The strikes came after Iran-backed Houthi rebels fired several missiles at Israel in recent days, without causing casualties.

The Israeli military said it destroyed aircraft used by the rebels. It was not immediately clear if anyone was killed or wounded in the strikes.

The distribution hub outside Gaza's southernmost city of Rafah was opened Monday by the Gaza Humanitarian Foundation, which has been slated by Israel to take over aid operations. AP

Musk turns the screws on big beautiful bill, claims it undermines DOGE's work

WASHINGTON

ELON Musk is criticising the centerpiece of President Donald Trump's legislative agenda, a significant fracture in a partnership that was forged during last year's campaign and was poised to reshape American politics and the federal government.

The billionaire entrepreneur, who supported Trump's candidacy with at least $250 million and has worked for his administration as a senior adviser, said he was "disappointed" by what the president calls his "big beautiful bill."

The legislation includes a mix of tax cuts and enhanced immigration enforcement. While speaking to CBS, Musk described it as a "massive spending bill" that increases the federal deficit and "undermines the work" of his Department of Government Efficiency, known as DOGE.

Elon Musk looks on as President Donald Trump meets South African President Cyril Ramaphosa in the Oval Office of the White House | AP

"I think a bill can be big or it could be beautiful," Musk said. "But I don't know if it could be both." His CBS interview came out Tuesday night. White House officials did not immediately respond to questions. Republicans recently pushed the legislation through the House and are debating it in the Senate.

Musk's comments come as he steps back from his government work, rededicating himself to companies like the electric automaker Tesla and rocket manufacturer SpaceX. He's also said he'll reduce his political spending, because "I think I've done enough."

At times, he's seemed chastened by his experience working in government. Although he hoped that DOGE would generate $1 trillion in spending cuts, he's fallen far short of that target.

"The federal bureaucracy situation is much worse than I realized," he told The Washington Post. "I thought there were problems, but it sure is an uphill battle trying to improve things in DC, to say the least." Musk had previously been effusive about the opportunity to reshape Washington. He wore campaign hats in the White House, held his own campaign rallies and talked about excessive spending as an existential crisis. He was also effusive in his praise of Trump. "The more I've gotten to know President Trump, the more I like the guy," Musk said at one point. "Frankly, I love him."

Trump repaid the favor, describing Musk as "a truly great American." When Tesla faced declining sales, he turned the White House driveway into a makeshift showroom to illustrate his support.

It's unclear what, if any, impact that Musk's comments about the bill would have on the legislative debate. During the transition period, he helped whip up opposition to a spending measure as the country stood on the brink of a federal government shutdown.

But Trump remains the dominant figure within the Republican Party, and many lawmakers have been unwilling to cross the president when he applies pressure for his agenda. AP

22 injured in suspected drone attack in northwest Pakistan

Peshawar: A suspected drone strike on a volleyball ground in South Waziristan's Barmal tehsil injured at least 22 people on Wednesday, including seven children. The attack occurred near Karamzi Stop as locals gathered to watch a match. Two victims—a 13-year-old and a man—are in critical condition, while seven others sustained major injuries. MP Zubair Khan condemned the "brutal act," which triggered an exchange of gunfire and a stampede. This is the second such incident in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa in two weeks, following a May 19 strike in North Waziristan that killed four children.

UN N-watchdog chief says jury still out on Iran-US talks, but calls it a good sign

VIENNA

Rafael Mariano Grossi, the director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency, speaks to journalists attending a weeklong seminar at the agency in Vienna | AP

THE head of the United Nations' atomic watchdog said Wednesday that "the jury is still out" on negotiations between Iran and the U.S. over Tehran's rapidly advancing nuclear program, but described the continuing negotiations a good sign.

Rafael Mariano Grossi, director-general of the International Atomic Energy Agency, described himself as being in near-daily conversation with Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi, as well as talking to Steve Witkoff, the US Middle East envoy.

Grossi acknowledged one of his deputies was in Tehran on Wednesday. Iranian officials identified the official as Massimo Aparo, the head of the IAEA's safeguards arm. That's the division that sends inspectors into Iran to monitor its program, which now enriches uranium up to 60% purity — a short, technical step from weapons-grade levels of 90%.

"For the moment, the jury is still out. We don't know whether there's going to be an agreement or not," Grossi told journalists attending a weeklong seminar at the agency in Vienna. However, he described the ongoing meetings as a good sign. "I think that is an indication of a willingness to come to an agreement. And I think that, in and by itself, is something possible."

Iran and the US so far have held five rounds of talks in both Muscat, Oman, and Rome, mediated by Omani Foreign Minister Badr al-Busaidi. A sixth round has yet to be set. The talks seek to limit Iran's nuclear program in exchange for the lifting of some of the crushing economic sanctions the US has imposed on the Islamic Republic, closing in on a half-century of enmity.

US President Donald Trump has repeatedly threatened to unleash airstrikes targeting Iran's program, if a deal isn't reached. Iranian officials increasingly warn they could pursue a nuclear weapon with their stockpile of uranium. Trump has described Iran as having an American proposal to reach a deal. However, Iran repeatedly has denied receiving such a proposal, including on Wednesday with Mohammad Eslami, the head of the Atomic Energy Organisation of Iran.

However, if a deal is reached, Iran might allow the IAEA to have American inspectors on their teams during inspections, Eslami said. AP

Corruption case: Lokpal clean chit to former Sebi chief Madhabi Puri Buch

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

IN a major relief to former Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) chairperson Madhabi Puri Buch, the Lokpal has cleared her of multiple corruption charges stemming from allegations cited in the Hindenburg Research report published in August 2024. The Lokpal concluded that the allegations were "unjustified" and "politically motivated."

The complaints—filed by three individuals, including Trinamool Congress MP Mahua Moitra—accused Buch and her husband, Dhawal Buch, of undisclosed investments, conflict of interest, quid pro quo, and influencing Sebi's regulatory decisions. Dismissing the charges, the Lokpal observed the complainants failed to substantiate even the basic allegations or provide any prima facie evidence. It further stated that there was no indication that Buch or her husband derived any undue advantage in any of the instances cited.

One of the key allegations claimed that the couple had invested in a fund linked to Adani Group companies — under Sebi probe for stock price manipulation— and that Buch failed to disclose these investments, constituting a conflict of interest.

The Lokpal noted that Buch had submitted documentary evidence proving the investments were made in 2015, well before Sebi began its probe into the Adani Group in 2020. The complainants, the Lokpal said, failed to show benefit accrued to the Buchs from Adani Group.

Buch, assumed charge as Sebi chairperson on March 2, 2022, demitted office on February 28, 2025, upon completion of her term. Other allegations involved undue advantage through consultancy fees received by Buch's company AAPL and by her husband from entities like Mahindra & Mahindra Group and Blackstone Inc.— while regulatory matters involving these companies were pending before Sebi. The Lokpal dismissed these claims as "far-fetched," noting that Buch, at the time, was a whole-time member and not in a position to influence Sebi's collective decisions.

Sebi bans former IndusInd CEO, dy CEO from markets

Sebi ordered disgorgement of ₹19.78 cr from top 5 former executives

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) has barred former MD & CEO of IndusInd Bank Sumant Kathpalia, former executive director & deputy CEO Arun Khurana and three others have been barred from equity markets in an alleged insider trading case. The capital market regulator has also ordered disgorgement of ₹19.78 crore from the five top former executives.

Sebi passed an interim order against the five former top executives of IndusInd Bank, who allegedly sold shares worth over ₹74 crore while in possession of unpublished price-sensitive information (UPSI). Apart from former MD & CEO and former executive director & deputy CEO, the order was passed against senior officials Sushant Sourav, Rohan Jathanna, and Anil Marco Rao. All were part of the bank's senior management during the relevant period.

Sebi probe revealed these executives were aware of discrepancies in the bank's derivative portfolio — an issue stemming from new RBI directions on accounting issued in September 2023. Internal emails showed they were aware as early as November 2023 that these discrepancies could materially impact the bank's net worth.Despite this, IndusInd Bank disclosed the issue to stock exchanges only on March 10, 2025, after market hours. The disclosure caused the stock to crash 27.17% the next trading day, wiping off nearly ₹1,530 crore in value. SEBI found that the five officials sold shares during the UPSI period—between December 4, 2023 and March 10, 2025—thereby avoiding substantial losses.

SEBI PASSED ORDER AGAINST 5 FORMER TOP OFFICIALS WHO SOLD SHARES WORTH OVER ₹74 CR

The regulator has directed that the impounded funds be placed in fixed deposits with a lien marked in favour of Sebi. The five individuals are barred from accessing the securities market until further notice. Their bank and demat accounts have been frozen to the extent of the impounded amount. "This is very serious," Sumant Kathpalia had remarked in an internal email dated December 17, 2023, acknowledging the severity of the accounting impact.

Apart from former MD & CEO and former executive director & deputy CEO, the order was passed against senior officials Sushant Sourav, Rohan Jathanna, and Anil Marco Rao. All were part of the bank's senior management during the relevant period.

- Sebi's investigation revealed that these executives were aware of significant discrepancies in the bank's derivative portfolio
- Despite officials knew the issue, IndusInd Bank disclosed the issue to stock exchanges only on March 10, 2025, after the market hours
- The regulator has directed that the impounded funds be placed in fixed deposits with a lien marked in favour of Sebi

TCS CEO Krithivasan's pay package rises 4.6% to ₹26.52 crore in FY25

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE country's largest IT services firm Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) CEO and MD K Krithivasan's salary package was up 4.6% to ₹26.52 crore in FY25. This includes salary (₹1.4 cr), benefits, perquisites and allowances (₹2.13 cr) and commission (₹23 cr). Krithivasan, who took charge as the CEO and MD of TCS on June 1, 2023, took home about ₹25.36 crore salary in FY24.

The company's former CEO Rajesh Gopinathan took home nearly ₹29.16 crore in FY23.

According to the company's annual report, the ratio of the pay of CEO to the median remuneration of employees stood at 329.8. The company said the average annual wage increase for employees was in the range of 4.5-7%, with top performers receiving double digit increments in India. Employees outside India received a wage increase varying from 1.5-6%.

Wipro recently filed its FY25 annual report and according to the filing, its CEO and MD Srinivas Pallia, who assumed the role in April last year, took home about ₹53.4 crore in FY25. TCS CEO in the letter to shareholders said, "In a very challenging geopolitical and macroeconomic environment, the company reported an annual revenue of ₹255,324 crore in FY 2025, growing 6.0% year-on-year (4.2% in constant currency)." He added, "Growth Markets experienced strong demand across key industries, fuelled by accelerated digital adoption and new client acquisitions. Governments invested significantly in digital public services, creating opportunities for TCS to drive large-scale transformation."

Spot power price in May falls amid unseasonal rains

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

COUNTRY'S spot electricity prices on power exchanges briefly touched zero in May, driven by unseasonal rain across the country and a surge in renewable power generation. According to a report by IIFL Capital, limited thermal power backup created a rare surplus, pushing prices on the power exchange to record lows.

On May 25, 2025, average day-ahead prices dropped to just ₹0.56 per unit, with near-zero prices observed during several time blocks between 9:15 am and 2:30 pm. The average daily price on that day was ₹1.53 per unit. For May, real-time electricity prices fell by 25% YoY to an average of ₹3.56 per unit.

One of the key factors behind the reduced reliance on thermal power is the addition of 25 gigawatts (GW) of solar capacity over the past year. However, India currently lacks adequate pumped storage or battery energy storage systems to absorb surplus generation, contributing to price volatility. The report recommends development of pumped storage projects (PSPs) and battery energy storage systems (BESS), which could utilise surplus renewable energy available at low cost. Recent government data shows India added 13,495 MW of power-generating capacity in Q1of 2025.

TCS TO INVEST IN AI DATA CENTRES, CLOUD INFRA

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

N Chandrasekaran, Chairman, TCS, in the company's FY25 Annual Report, said Agentic AI is being embedded deeply into enterprise systems and that TCS has infused AI across its offerings and built intelligent agent solutions throughout the value chain.

Talking about Generative AI, he said the single most transformative force in 2024 was Gen AI. "The rise of autonomous robots and AI agents promises a future of 'dark factories' and AI-assisted enterprise functions," he said, adding every industry stands to benefit from Gen AI and that the IT industry is no exception. TCS is planning four progressions- to establish a large pool of AI agents working alongside human workforce; delivering solutions through a human+ AI model; to consciously invest in AI data centres and cloud infrastructure; and forge industry-best partnerships with hardware providers, solution innovators and start-ups.

He also pointed out that the company has worked with a client to develop a GenAI-based drug discovery solution that created over 1,300 molecules for a concept target, then assessed synthesisability and shortlisted 12 molecules undergoing in-vitro testing. Meanwhile, Infosys on Wednesday announced the launch of Infosys Agentic AI Foundry, a comprehensive solution designed to accelerate the development and deployment of reliable production-grade AI agents.

IIP growth slips to 2.7% amid weak power, mining output

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COUNTRY'S industrial production growth slowed to 2.7% in April 2025 because of poor performance of manufacturing, mining and power sectors, according to official data released on Wednesday.

The factory output, measured in terms of the Index of Industrial Production (IIP), rose by 5.2% in April 2024, the data showed. The National Statistics Office (NSO) revised upwards industrial production growth for March to 3.9% from the earlier estimate of 3% released last month. The IIP growth was 2.7 in February. The NSO data showed the manufacturing sector's output growth decelerated to 3.4% in April 2025 from 4.2 per cent in the year-ago month. Mining production fell by 0.2% as against a growth of 6.8% a year ago. Power output growth also slowed to 1% in April 2025 against 10.2% in the year-ago period. As per use-based classification, the capital goods segment growth accelerated to 20.3% in April 2025 from 2.8% in the year-ago period.

Discoms losses at all-India level saw decline in FY24

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DISCOMS losses at the all-India level witnessed a decline in FY24 compared to FY23, led by higher tariffs and subsidy grants from state governments, according to a report by ICRA.

The report also noted that the gap between the cost of supply and tariff realisation persists across most states.

Moreover, the gross debt for state-owned Discoms saw a sharp increase to ₹7.4 trillion as of March 2024 from ₹6.6 trillion in March 2023, driven by debt availed to clear past dues to generators and to fund working capital and capex amid continued losses. "The tariff orders for FY26 have been issued in 19 out of 28 states as of May 25, reflecting moderate progress in issuance of tariff orders," said said Vikram V, vice-President and co-group head - corporate ratings, ICRA. "Despite the loss-making operations of the Discoms, the tariff hikes approved for FY26 remain muted across most states, similar to FY25."

The report also noted that India's power demand growth for FY26 is expected to be 5.0-5.5%, lower than the expectation for GDP growth for this fiscal (6.5%) due to the early onset of monsoon. The above-average rainfall will dampen demand for cooling as well as demand from the agriculture segment. As per the rating agency, demand growth in FY2026 is expected to be higher than the 4.2% reported in FY25, but it is expected to trail the over 8.0% growth seen during FY22-24.

"Over the next five years, ICRA expects power demand to achieve a healthy compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6-6.5%, higher than 5% CAGR achieved over the past decade, driven by demand from rising adoption of electric vehicles (EVs), green hydrogen (GH), and increase in data centre capacity," said Vikram V. The growth in demand for grid capacity is expected to be offset to some extent by rising adoption of rooftop solar and off-grid projects, driven by schemes such as the Pradhan Mantri Surya Ghar Yojana. Additionally, ICRA expects generation capacity addition to reach all-time high of 44 GW in FY26, a sharp rise from the previous high of 34 GW in FY25.

NSE IPO issue not something that can't be sorted: Sebi

Sebi Chairman Tuhin Kanta Pandey said on Wednesday the application for initial public offer (IPO) of India's largest bourse NSE was not something that cannot be sorted. Last week, Sebi chairman Tuhin Kanta Pandey said that the regulator is working with the exchange to iron out various issues. This has raised hopes that NSE could get listed soon.

and attractive valuations are fueling investor interest.

"NSE has always been a sought-after name in the unlisted space, thanks to its clear leadership, robust business model, and the critical role it plays in India's financial infrastructure. But with such healthy FY25 performance, demand from investors has only intensified—leading to this milestone of crossing 100,000 shareholders," InCred Money said in a note. Vikaas M Sachdeva, managing director of Sundaram Alternatives, said, "The share price has risen exponentially. There is lot of institutional interest. Its IPO will be absorbed easily." NSE's IPO journey, stalled for nearly a decade, may finally see progress. After its first application in 2016, regulatory hurdles and controversies delayed the listing. However, Sebi Chairman Tuhin Kanta Pandey recently indicated that the remaining issues are resolvable.

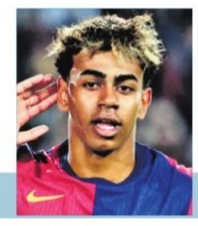
Teenage Barca star Yamal signs new contract till 2031



Barcelona's teenage star Lamine Yamal signed a new contract until 2031 with the Catalan giants on Tuesday after a spectacular season. The 17-year-old winger is already one of the club's key players and helped them land a domestic treble of La Liga, the Copa del Rey and the Spanish Super Cup.

Final destination: Kings vs Royal face-off

PBKS and RCB play each other in Qualifier 1; both sides are looking to get one step closer to their first IPL trophy

GOMESH S @ New Chandigarh

AS one edged closer to the New Punjab Cricket Association Stadium in Mullanpur on a hot Wednesday afternoon, the buzz on the road was evident. Scores of police officials were present inside and around the ground, fans were swarming the two counters open for tickets, and inside the ground, the Mumbai Indians could be seen grinding it out in their first training session. They, however, are not the ones to take centre stage immediately as MI will play Gujarat Titans in the eliminator on Friday.

At the break of dusk — one of the protagonists who will be in action on Thursday, table-toppers and a side that can call the venue home — Punjab Kings entered the ground. They are set to face Royal Challengers Bengaluru in Qualifier 1 on Thursday.

It is only their second playoff appearance in 18 years. Their last playoff appearance came eleven years ago when Punjab, led by George Bailey, topped the table. RCB, on the other hand, have made multiple playoffs but never been able to go all the way. PBKS and RCB — along with Delhi Capitals – are the only three teams from the original eight franchises to not have an IPL trophy. Over the years, there have been several occasions where memes were made out of this.

This year, however, has been different. All three did extremely well, but DC sort of lost their way in the second half. Punjab and Bengaluru, meanwhile, sustained and now have a chance of making it to the finals. If they do, it will be Punjab's second final in 18 years. For RCB, it will be their fourth. On all six occasions, their opponents had the final say.

The ongoing season poses an opportunity where one of these two teams can actually end their long and tiring quest for a trophy. That storyline is for later. Thursday will be all about how the two teams that, more often than not, were made fun of, came to this point through contrasting journeys.

Kings set for Royal challenge

AS ROYAL CHALLENGERS BENGALURU FACE PUNJAB KINGS IN THE QUALIFIER 1, A LOOK AT SOME KEY TALKING POINTS...

CAN PUNJAB DREAM AGAIN?

In 18 years of IPL, Punjab had made it to the playoffs just one time — in 2014. That season, they topped the table with 22 points but lost to Kolkata, who finished second, in the qualifier 1. Although Punjab fought their way back to the final, KKR won the trophy. Eleven years on, Punjab dare to dream. Can they edge past the second-placed RCB and get to the final first?

2016

The last time RCB finished in the top two. It was the only time a side that finished third/fourth went on to win the title.

HAZLEWOOD'S RETURN

From the moment IPL resumed, the biggest talking point has been about the return of Australian pacer Josh Hazlewood. When he did not play in the game against Lucknow, there were doubts, but captain Jitesh Sharma clarified that the lanky pacer is fit and will take part in the playoffs. Hazlewood will be the biggest threat to the dynamic Punjab batting line-up.

HOME GAME, BUT NOT REALLY

Even though the BCCI takes over the playoff venues, there is no denying that Punjab is at their new den. Unlike the past few years, they have had a stellar record at home this season and will expect a resounding support from the packed crowd in Mullanpur. That being said, the last time these two teams played here, Virat Kohli and RCB had the last laugh.

PUNJAB KINGS VS ROYAL CHALLENGERS BENGALURU, MULLANPUR

LIVE ON STAR SPORTS AND JIOHOTSTAR, 7.30 PM

Take a look at Punjab. They are a team who have historically struggled to hold on to their core and show consistency on the field. Not in 2025. Under Shreyas Iyer and Ricky Ponting, they have flourished like never before. Riding on the back of several uncapped Indian players — Shreyas surely has led the way — Punjab have been a force to reckon with. And they have their 'Sarpanch' to thank for it.

It is a title tag that the social media team came up with at the beginning of the season to address Shreyas. Sarpanch, in Punjabi, means along the lines of 'head of village who takes care of everything for the people residing'. When the social media team came up with it, it might just have been a rhyming tagline that suits Shreyas, the captain. The Mumbaikar has truly lived up to it right through the tournament. And it all began in their opening game against Kolkata Knight Riders when Shreyas was batting at 97 but let Shashank Singh bat the entire final over. Shashank smashed 23 runs and PBKS won by 11 runs. Shreyas has led from the front not just with the bat, but has also set the template. Personal milestones have not mattered for Kings. Putting the team in a winning position has. From Priyansh Arya to Prabhsimran Singh to Nehal Wadhera to Shashank, they all followed their 'sarpanch'.

Shreyas also showed why he is highly-rated tactically and should be in the reckoning for a leadership role with the national team. With Ponting by his side, he instilled a mentality that made Punjab the force they have become. "... if you look back, we haven't achieved anything yet. That's the one thing I've been saying to the players since the moment we qualified," said Ponting after finishing in the top two. Shashank echoed the sentiment: "Finishing in the top two is half the job done. The full job will be done on the 3rd of June, I guess. When it is late at night, at 12 o'clock, we will have a press conference. That will be the time I'll tell you that 'yes, we are at the top of the world'."

To get there, they will have to move past RCB on Thursday. This, however, is not an RCB side of the past. If anything, this has been their most well-rounded side in IPL history. Unlike yesteryears, they do not rely on the top-three to do the heavy lifting. Yes, Virat Kohli has 602 runs at 147 strike rate. But they also have Jacob Bethell, Phil Salt and Jitesh Sharma, hitting at a little over 170 strike rate. Tim David operates at 185 strike rate and Romario Shepherd's strike rate is an astounding 353. They have all allowed Kohli to bat the way he does. With the ball, as many as four bowlers — led by Josh Hazlewood — have taken ten wickets or more. The likes of Krunal Pandya and Suyash Sharma have been the trump card with the bowling unit complementing their batting force. As they come to Mullanpur on the back of the thrilling win against Lucknow Super Giants, RCB will be brimming with confidence.

As the New PCA Stadium gets ready for its first-ever playoff game, one of the taglines plastered around the venue reads 'The Last Mile'. Written in the banners between 'Tata IPL 2025' and 'Playoffs', the phrase signifies what this contest means to both PBKS and RCB. For it is the one hurdle both teams have not been able to cross in 18 years of IPL.

Thursday, perhaps, is the best opportunity for both the teams. The winner will get a step closer to crossing the last mile. Who is that going to be? Only time will tell.

D Gukesh (R) shakes hands with Arjun Erigaisi on Wednesday | NORWAY CHESS

Erigaisi adds to Gukesh's misery with Classical win

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Stavanger

MOMENTS after throwing in the towel against Arjun Erigaisi at the ongoing edition of Norway Chess on Wednesday, D Gukesh preferred to momentarily hide his eyes away from the crowd, the photographers and the assembled journalists inside the playing hall. The disappointment of a second-straight loss was writ large on his face. After he got up from the gaming chair, he opened the door and stormed past several TV journalists, some of whom had already asked their questions. No questions would be answered today as he speed-walked his way out of the building and into one of the waiting cars.

The tournament may only be three days old but it has been a pretty frustrating experience for Gukesh so far. On Day One, Magnus Carlsen edged him in an endgame thriller after more or less staying level for the vast majority of the game. In the second game against Erigaisi, India No. 1 according to the FIDE ranking, the 18-year-old showed enough gumption and spirit to fight back from a vulnerable position.

Erigaisi may have been up three pawns in the endgame but the TN man still had it under control. That's when he played 56. Bf1 rather than Bd5. Rated as an inaccuracy by the engine, the end was near and Erigaisi didn't need a second invitation. Laser focussed, he dialled in to claim his first outright win of the tournament. It was also his second consecutive win over Gukesh in Classical since the latter had become world champion.

The game, the result and the first few days at Stavanger also offered a peek into the mindset of India's two best-ranked players. If Gukesh flat out refused to engage with the media or take some selfies (it's normal for players to leave the hall as soon as possible, especially after a loss), the 21-year-old stayed behind to give bytes to all TV reporters as well as spend some time with the Indian media.

That sort of mood was reflected in the live ratings. While the world champion has lost 9.4 points in two days (and a fall of 19.9 in his last 11 games), his opponent gained 4.8 in as many days.

Round 4

Open: Carlsen vs Erigaisi, Gukesh vs Caruana, Nakamura vs Wei

Women: Tingjie vs Khadem, Wenjun vs Humpy, Vaishali vs Muzychuk

"He ran into my prep," he said after the game. "I could just play without thinking and he needed to really think hard." That is true. While Erigaisi was blitzing his moves to the middle-game, Gukesh was bleeding time. Here's a sample. For the first 20 moves, Gukesh had used up 90 minutes (his opponent had used 30 minutes and change).

Getting into a time scramble in the middle-game can be deadly at the elite level and it's what led the 18-year-old into a blunder in the 26th move. His Rb6 sent the engines on a tailspin, giving the Warangal-born GM a big advantage.

"If Gukesh gets low on time here, with there being no increment until move 40, he's just going to get blown away," was how Hikaru Nakamura summed it up when he visited the confessional booth during the match. To be fair to Gukesh, he did claw the game back to level footing before losing it again.

However, two wins in as many days — including one over Wei Yi in Armageddon (shorter time control after drawing the Classical) on Monday — has given Erigaisi the sort of start he wanted 'in one of the stronger tournaments in history because you don't often see the top-five players in an event together'.

Interestingly, the World No. 3 also worked on his mental attributes to be in top shape for this tournament. After falling into bad habits — having one eye on results and performances at Wijk Aan Zee where he lost games and struggled for consistency — earlier in the year, he's now back to 'thinking about process'.

On Thursday, the World No. 3 — nicknamed the beast because of his aggressive instincts — will face Carlsen. If he ruffles the Norwegian's usually unflappable feathers in this format, it could be a significant moment in the Indian's still nascent career.

SatChi win, Sen retires mid-match

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

IT was a mixed day for India in the ongoing Singapore Open tournament. The doubles duo of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty made a winning return while singles specialist Lakshya Sen was forced to retire mid-match due to lower back pain on Wednesday. Later, the women's doubles combination of Treesa Jolly and Gayatri Gopichand also won their tie to advance to the second round. From India's perspective, there was much interest on Satwik and Chirag at the BWF World Tour Super 750 event as they had been out of action for a little over two months due to injury. But it was Lakshya who entered the court first (Court 1) for his men's singles tie against Lin Chun-Yi of Chinese Taipei. Having pocketed the first game, Lakshya had made an ideal start. But he couldn't sustain the momentum and conceded the second game before injury troubles hit him. The score read 21-15, 17-21, 5-13 when Lakshya retired.

Soon after that, it was Satwik and Chirag's turn to take the court. Returning to action for the first time since the All England Championship, the men's doubles duo eased past Malaysian duo of Choong Hon Jian and Muhammad Haikal 21-16, 21-13. Treesa and Gayatri took beat Chang Ching Hui and Yang Ching Tun 14-21, 21-19, 17-21.

Big guns Alcaraz & Swiatek in Round 3

AGENCIES @ Paris

TITLE favourites Carlos Alcaraz and Iga Swiatek won their respective matches to reach the French Open third round on Wednesday.

Reigning men's champion and second seed Alcaraz came through 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2 against Hungarian Fabian Marozsan to earn his 17th win in 18 matches on clay this season while Swiatek, the reigning champ in the women's section, swept past former US Open champion Emma Raducanu in straight sets. "Second set, he started to play better and he didn't miss a lot so it was a little bit difficult to deal with his game," said Alcaraz. "I'm really happy I stayed strong and refreshed myself. In the third set, I started to play better and better which helped me have a really good last two sets," he added.

Poland's Swiatek won 6-1, 6-2 in one hour 19 minutes and will play either Czech qualifier Sara Bejlek or Romania's Jaqueline Cristian for a place in the last 16. Swiatek is bidding to become the first woman to win four consecutive French Open titles since Suzanne Lenglen 102 years ago. However, twice former French Open runner-up Casper Ruud crashed out after going down in four sets to Portugal's Nuno Borges. Seventh seed Ruud won the first set against World No 41 Borges but was hampered by a leg injury as he slumped to a 2-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-0 defeat. 2021 finalist Stefanos Tsitsipas of Greece also bowed out after losing 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4 against Italy's Matteo Gigante.

Gold in 4x400m mixed relay for India on rainy day, Chithravel bags silver

CHANDRA PRABHU @ Chennai

IT was quite an eventful day in Gumi, not just for the Indian athletes who had some commendable outings but also the conditions. It trained and rained, literally during the Asian Athletics Championships on Wednesday. Suddenly the conditions turned hostile and the torrential downpour forced athletes off the track, something not always seen during athletics. Yet India managed a handful of good shows on the track as well as on the field.

Praveen Chithravel felt the vagaries of nature to finish second while Tejaswin Shankar missed out on gold by a whisker. Rupal Chaudhury finished second in 400m while the mixed relay team won gold, the second for the country.

The rain did affect a few of the events as well. One athlete who had to stop his vocation midway was Chithravel who ended with a silver in triple jump. He along with his teammate Abdullah Abubakar were midway into their competition when the event was halted due to rain. Because of Chithravel's recent record, he managed 17.37m national record-equalling feat at the Federation Athletics Championships, he was one of the favourites to win gold along with Abubaker.

However, Chithravel could jump 16.90 metres and could not overtake China's Zhu Yaming (17.06m).

The 17.37m jump in Kochi has already earned him a spot at the World Athletics Championship in Tokyo. Yet he wanted to improve at Gumi. Chithravel explained during an online press interaction about the challenging conditions. He said that he was getting warmed up and his third jump was the best in the series and was looking to better that. However, because of the heavy rain he could not get back his rhythm. "The local weather conditions were good at the start but then it rained and became challenging to keep the body warmed up," Chithravel said.

Tejaswin heroics

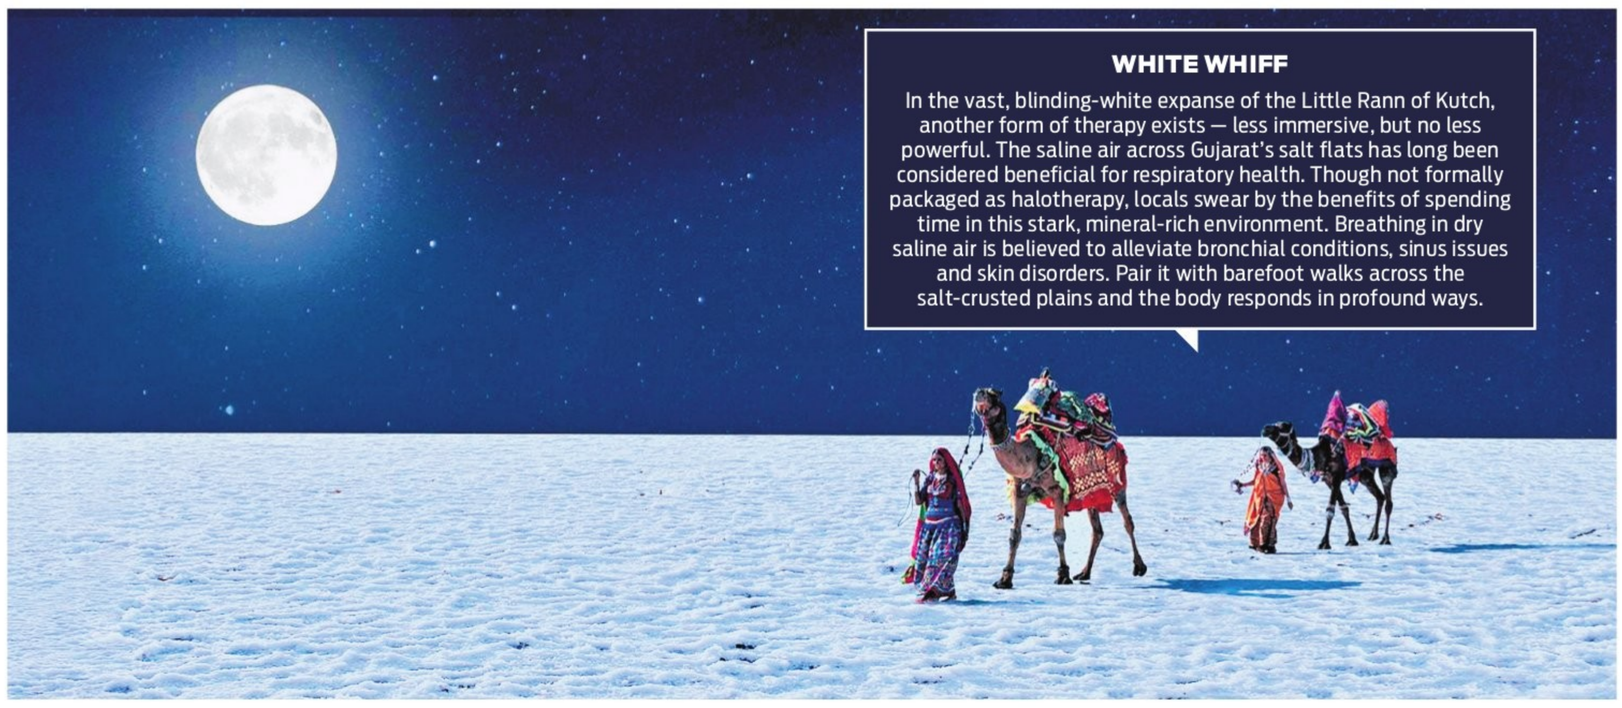
The ever dependable 25-year-old Subha Venkatesan anchored the Indian 4x400m mixed relay team to victory. Other members of the victorious Indian mixed 4x400m relay team were Santhosh KT, Rupal Chaudhary and Vishal TK. The team clocked 3:18.12 seconds.

Tejaswin Shankar was close to winning India's third gold medal in a gruelling two-day decathlon but missed by a slender margin. On Day 3, long jumpers Shaili Singh and Ancy Sojan, defending gold medallist in hurdles Jyothi Yarraji and national record holder in steeplechase Avinash Sable will be keen to add more medals.

Results: Men's 400m: Ammar Ismail Ibrahim (Qatar) 45.33 seconds, Kentaro Sato (Japan) 45.50 seconds, Kalinga Kumarage Hewa K (Sri Lanka) 45.55 seconds. 1500m: Kazuto Lizawa (Japan) 3:42.56 seconds, Jaeung Lee (Korea) 3:42.79 seconds, Yoonus Shah (India) 3:43.03. Triple jump: Zhu Yaming (China) 17.06m, Praveen Chithravel (India) 16.90m, Gyumin Yu (South Korea) 16.82m. Decathlon: Fei Xiang (China) 7634 points, Tejaswin Shankar (India) 7618 points, Keisuke Okuda (Japan) 7602 points. Women's 400m: Nanaka Matsumoto (Japan) 52.17 seconds, Rupal Chaudhary (India) 52.68 seconds, Jonbibi Hukmova (Uzbekistan) 52.79 seconds, Vithya Ramraj (India—4th) 53.00 seconds. 1500m: Li Chunhul (China) 4:10.58 seconds, Pooja (India) 4:10.83 seconds, Tomoka Kimura (Japan) 4:11.56 seconds, Lili Das (India 4th) 4:13.81 seconds. Mixed 4x400m relay: India (Santhosh KT, Rupa Chaudhary, Vishal TK, Subha Venkatesan) 3:18.12 seconds, Kazakhstan 3:22.70 seconds, South Korea 3:22.87 seconds. India's medal tally: 2 Gold, 4 silver and 2 bronze medals.

HERBAL CLEANSING

Churachandpur in Manipur houses age-old wellness traditions that continue to flourish away from the national gaze. Tribal herbal baths are practised here by indigenous communities who collect medicinal herbs, roots and flowers to prepare steaming infusions in large wooden tubs. Each bath is tailored to the individual, based on ailments and constitution. Elder women, often midwives or forest healers, guide the process. The experience is as much about cultural exchange as it is about healing, offering a rare glimpse into holistic care systems that predate modern Ayurveda. In the highlands of North Sikkim, particularly during spring, local women harvest freshly bloomed rhododendrons to create fragrant, floral baths. These are believed to invigorate the senses, reduce skin inflammation and uplift the mood. Rhododendron petals are sometimes combined with medicinal leaves to create warm soaks that act as natural muscle relaxants.



WHITE WHIFF

In the vast, blinding-white expanse of the Little Rann of Kutch, another form of therapy exists — less immersive, but no less powerful. The saline air across Gujarat's salt flats has long been considered beneficial for respiratory health. Though not formally packaged as halotherapy, locals swear by the benefits of spending time in this stark, mineral-rich environment. Breathing in dry saline air is believed to alleviate bronchial conditions, sinus issues and skin disorders. Pair it with barefoot walks across the salt-crusted plains and the body responds in profound ways.

ELEMENTAL ESCAPES

Indians are rediscovering ancient natural therapies — mud, minerals and forest — to realign mind, body and spirit, far from the predictability of urban spas

SRUSHTI KULKARNI

As the world tilts increasingly towards conscious living and mindful travel, wellness seekers are beginning to shift their gaze beyond modern spas and digital detox retreats. In India, a land layered with millennia of healing traditions, nature itself is emerging as the therapist.

From sulphur-rich riverbeds to flower-strewn mountain baths, this new trend of natural therapies is drawing in travellers who crave deep reconnection through the raw, restorative powers of the earth.

As June, the Global Wellness Month, approaches, there's no better time to explore India's lesser-known healing sanctuaries where local knowledge, natural resources and slow travel converge into a truly regenerative experience.

SYLVAN SOLACE

If the Japanese practice of shinrin-yoku (forest bathing) has sparked global fascination, India's pine and deodar forests in Himachal and Uttarakhand have long been secret sanctuaries for just that. In regions like Jibhi and Binsar Wildlife Sanctuary, dense alpine woods release phytoncides — natural oils with antimicrobial and stress-reducing properties. Spending a few mindful hours immersed in these jungles can reduce cortisol levels, lower blood pressure and even improve sleep quality. Many travellers now seek walking meditations in these zones, letting the rustling leaves and filtered sunlight recalibrate their frayed urban nerves.

DOWN TO EARTH

In Thirunakkara, near Kottayam in Kerala, wellness is rooted quite literally in the ground. Here, red laterite clay, rich in iron and minerals, is harvested from Ayurvedic farmlands and transformed into therapeutic wraps. Local practitioners with traditional knowledge blend this clay with coconut oil and herbal infusions, applying it as a cooling, detoxifying mask across the body. The therapy is typically performed outdoors, under the dappled shade of banana trees — a ritual that grounds you not just physically, but spiritually. While spas may emulate mud therapy with imported products, this version is as local and unprocessed as it gets. Similarly, Maharashtra's less documented but rich in potential volcanic soil therapies found near Ratnagiri and Kolhapur are equally popular. These regions possess nutrient-dense black soil, thanks to their Deccan Plateau origins. While primarily used for farming, local healers have long used the soil in its wet form for body wraps believed to relieve rheumatism, promote detoxification and firm the skin.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Young, Bold & World-Ready

As Miss World contestants gear up for the grand finale on May 31, Shreya Veronica speaks with two standout contestants who made a strong impression on the judges in a Head to Head challenge this week

Millie-Mae Adams, Miss Wales

THE elimination round with all the girls was really empowering. It was about telling our stories, which made it a bit easier. I'm training to be a doctor, so I speak to people from all walks of life every day. I really enjoyed the opportunity to speak on behalf of Wales. Being in the Top 20 was super exciting, and winning was extra special because I wanted to do it for my mother; I knew she was watching live, and now she's on her way to see me. It was such an honour to speak in front of Julia Morley, Krystyna Pyszková, and the esteemed panel of judges. Miss Ireland is one of my close friends, so going head-to-head with her was emotional. We were both celebrating our passions, and it was a very close call. I was lucky to get questions related to education and purpose, which felt like fate. Although I would've been confident answering a healthcare-related question, I believe I was prepared for anything. Now, we're rehearsing for the finals. I may not be the tallest contestant, but I'm giving it my all. This is my second time in India. I've even learned a bit of the local language – 'Namaskaram' and 'Shukriya'. I'll take that home with me and share the vibrancy and colour; I've loved every second here.

Faith Bwalya, Miss Zambia

I'LL share something funny, it took me just 10 days to prepare for Miss World. I never expected to win; I just knew I'd give it my best. Even now, being in the Top 4 feels surreal. My country has never placed at Miss World before, so I feel like I'm dreaming. It's a beautiful experience. Preparation for the Head to Head challenge involved really understanding what you're talking about and being aware of life from different angles. At Miss World, they don't prep you, they expect you to come as a queen already prepared. My focus was on being calm, suppressing my nerves, and really listening to the questions so I could answer with clarity and confidence. That helped me shine. This isn't my first international pageant. In other contests, sometimes you make friends, sometimes you don't. But Miss World is different, the women here are truly amazing. Conversations flow naturally, and there's so much positivity. In Africa, we're all one – we love to laugh, sing, and dance, and being surrounded by such positive energy has been transformative.

After receiving his Padma Shri award on Tuesday evening, Bengaluru-based musician and three-time Grammy winner Ricky Kej shared what the award means to him, glimpses behind the scenes of the ceremony, a heartwarming moment with the Vice-President, and his upcoming album with Nobel laureate Kailash Satyarthi

'PADMA AWARD VALIDATES ALL DECISIONS I'VE MADE'

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

AMONG the Padma awardees gathered at the Rashtrapati Bhavan on Tuesday evening to receive one of the country's highest civilian honours, was Bengaluru's own musician Ricky Kej who attended the ceremony with his mother on his arm. In a brief chat on a flight en route the USA, the three-time Grammy award winner shared the surreal joy of receiving the Padma Shri, saying, "The award itself was announced on the eve of Republic Day this year and I was overjoyed, but it felt absolutely real only when I actually stepped into the Rashtrapati Bhavan." Explaining the preparation that happens behind the scenes of what the nation sees on screen, he added, "In the morning, a rehearsal was organised and it helped all of us award winners to be less nervous – we practiced the entire event flow, and pathway to walk to the president. We also got to know a little bit about the history of the Rashtrapati Bhavan." Despite this, Kej's nerves had not completely dissipated. "When my name was called out, it was a complete blur," he recalls.

Because of being 'humbled by the entire event itself', Kej chose to make the walk barefoot. "It is so amazing that the award goes to unsung heroes – people who are doing amazing work at the grassroots level, helping communities that have been historically left behind, and furthering the arts. It felt like I was in a temple and it was overwhelming as a spiritual moment. That is why I decided to walk barefoot and accept the award," he explains, adding that despite his four Grammy nominations and three wins, the Padma Shri is the most special to him.

"I've won lots of awards all over the world but all of those have been for a project or a song. I feel the Padma award is for my entire career and it is a huge validation of all the decisions I've made, a lot of them against the grain, by the highest authority in my country. There is no greater feeling," he says.

Recalling a memorable behind-the-scenes moment at the ceremony, Kej shares that he brought up a video of the Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankar holding the umbrella for his wife in the rain. "I told the honourable Vice-President and his wife that I saw the video which went completely viral and that I found it very endearing. He laughed, brought his wife closer to him, and said that she was the commander in chief of my family," he says with a chuckle.

What's next for the musician? Two tours and an upcoming album continuing his activism-focussed work, he reveals, saying, "I'm working on a lot of things – one European tour and another Indian one, so there are a lot of concerts coming up this year. In addition to that, I'm wrapping up an album called 'Gandhi: Mantras of Compassion' which is a collaboration between me and Nobel Peace Prize winner Kailash Satyarthi. It is about the ideals of peace and non-violence of Mahatma Gandhi. It's almost complete and we hope to release it soon."

How can one manage to stay fit despite busy schedules?

In today's fast-paced world, finding time for fitness can feel like a luxury. But the good news is, that staying fit doesn't always require hours in the gym or a perfect schedule. Here is how even the busiest people can prioritise their health:

- You don't need a 60-minute workout every day to stay fit. Bouts of short, focused sessions like 15-20 minutes of bodyweight exercises, a brisk walk, or a quick mobility routine can add up over time and still deliver results.
- Make time and treat your workouts as non-negotiable appointments, just like work calls or meetings. Even blocking 15 to 30 minutes a few times a week can make a huge difference if you stay consistent.

ASK AN XPERT

- We were meant to move, so make movement part of your day. You can take the stairs instead of an elevator, walk while on calls, do stretches between tasks or stand and work.
- Ditch the all-or-nothing mindset and prioritise quality over quantity. A well-structured 20-minute workout done with focus and intensity is far more effective than an hour of distracted effort.

PRASARITA BALASANA VARIATION HASTA SIRSA SIDE (WIDE CHILD POSE VARIATION ARMS HEAD TO SIDE)

This is a variation of the base pose Prasarita Balasana (Wide Child Pose). It's a beginner-level restorative forward bend pose in a prone position. It's an easier variation of the Child Pose Variation Head Turned for students who have a big belly. It teaches you to be composed and comfortable in turning the head in a prone position. Before practising this pose, it's advisable for students to do warm-ups for the neck like Neck Rolls Close Up to avoid sprains and jerks.

STEPS

- Start in Vajrasana (Thunderbolt Pose), take a few breaths and stretch the spine.
- Align your buttocks to the heels. Inhale, widen your knees and thighs, keeping them hip-width apart.
- Placing the big toes together and opening the heels out completely, place the sit bones slowly on the heels.
- Inhale, stretch your hands above your head. Exhale, bring it forward, taking the torso down in a forward fold. Place the forearms on the floors such that the elbows touch the outer knees.
- The elbow should be perpendicular to the shoulder. The arms are in an L shape with the palms on the floor. This is Prasarita Balasana Variation Head Up.
- Inhale, release the forearm. Exhale, take the hands back, and place the head on the mat. Turn the head right with the left side on the floor.
- Surrender the arms on the sides of the body, close to the legs with palms facing the ceiling.
- Exhale, expand the torso and focus on your breathing to help increase concentration and watch the breath. Close your eyes or look ahead.
- After 6-8 breaths, re-centre the head as in Balasana and practise e by turning the head towards the left.
- Slowly, release and return to Vajrasana and then relax.

BENEFITS

- Stretches entire hip muscles, quadriceps, pelvis, and calves.
- Hamstring is contracted and toned.
- Helps practising various deep yoga poses.
- Gently opens the hips and the pelvic muscles.
- Enhances hip flexibility and mobility.
- Enhances the thoracic cavity.
- Effective for breathing and cardiac functions.
- Surrender of the mind and body is the element of this pose.
- Improves the mobility of the lower limbs.
- Extended spine and elongated torso improve body posture.

From medication to daily management, learn how to tackle type 2 diabetes

HOW TO MANAGE TYPE 2 DIABETES EFFECTIVELY

DR AKHIL KRISHNA

RECENT studies show that millions of people above the age of 18 years in India are suffering from diabetes (type 2). However, following a comprehensive strategy which includes weight management, regular exercise, sticking to nutritious diet, effective blood sugar control and undergoing medications, one can avoid complications and enhance the quality of life.

Nutrition forms the cornerstone of diabetes management. A balanced meal should include complex carbohydrates, lean protein (like fish or legumes), and non-starchy vegetables (such as leafy greens). Limit intake of sugar and refined grains, and focus on high-fibre foods.

For example, replacing white rice with Kerala red matta rice or adding fiber-rich legumes like black chickpeas can help moderate blood sugar levels. Remember, portion control is crucial – even healthy foods can lead to spikes in blood sugar if consumed in excess.

Apart from diet, physical activity and weight management is another important aspect of diabetes management in maintaining an active lifestyle. Regular exercise improves insulin sensitivity and helps lower blood glucose levels. Aim for at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity activity per week – such as a brisk 30-minute walk five days a week. Other good options include yoga, swimming, or cycling.

Managing weight also plays a key role. Even a modest weight loss of 5-10 per cent can reduce health risks and significantly improve blood sugar control.

Medications and treatment guidelines

Although lifestyle modifications are the cornerstone of management, many people require medication to achieve the best possible control. Because of its efficacy and safety, metformin is still the first-choice medication for type 2 diabetes. In recent years, GLP-1 receptor agonists and SGLT2 inhibitors have become popular treatments that help people lose weight, lower blood sugar, and protect their kidneys and heart. These medications are now advised by international guidelines, particularly for people with kidney or heart problems.

Tips for daily management

Monitor sugar: As directed, check your blood glucose at home (fasting and post-meal readings) to assess the effectiveness of your medication and lifestyle choices.

Don't skip meals: Maintain a balanced, regular eating schedule. Blood sugar fluctuations brought on by skipping can result in overeating later.

Control stress: Prolonged stress can cause blood sugar levels to rise. Engage in relaxation practices like yoga or meditation.

Adhere to treatment: Make sure you don't miss any follow-up appointments and take your prescription drugs on time. For early identification, get your HbA1c tested. With consistent effort, managing type 2 diabetes is achievable. With newer medications complementing lifestyle changes, people with diabetes can lead full, healthy lives. These steps, taken diligently, will empower you to control your blood sugar and protect your health.

Beyond Blood

On Wednesday, we marked Menstrual Hygiene Day, upon which we delve into the recent Mental Load Report 2025 which dives into the unseen burden of menstrual cycle in India

FOR the average modern Indian woman, menstruation is over 2,500 days across a lifetime – planning, adjusting, enduring, and pretending everything's fine. Many times, discomfort becomes normal. Silence is inherited. And the mental toll? Invisible. Recently, Mahina's Mental Load Report 2025 came out and mirrors the current state of menstruation in India. The unseen labour, the micro-decisions, and the resilience of modern menstruators.

What does the report say?

As per the report, 97 per cent of menstruators rearrange their routine every cycle. For three in four, every period cycle causes a week of disruption each month. But the burden isn't just logistical. It's psychological too. Two in three menstruators say men expect them to hide it. Around 62 per cent of menstruators mask their period symptoms to appear 'normal' at work and in public. Half feel excluded by their family during their periods. These demands are a silent rulebook menstruators inherit from day one. 73 per cent learnt about menstruation from their mothers, while 90 per cent were left navigating uncertainty.

The toll of periods

Nearly all menstruators endure three or more period-related side effects every cycle. Only four per cent escape the physical strain. For the rest, discomfort and pain is part of their period routine. And 73 per cent are deeply impacted by periods and hormonal shifts, but rarely say it out loud. While 64 per cent feel unlike themselves during PMS (Pre-Menstrual Syndrome) around 58 per cent dread unpredictable period symptoms

What now?

Start by noticing. By being kinder to yourself and others. This load was never meant to be carried alone. Because once you see the full weight of what periods demand, you begin to see everything differently. That's when we think better. Lead better. That's where change begins.

Ensuring a Safe Delivery

Placenta Previa, which affects around 1 in 200 to 500 pregnancies, is a serious threat to both mother and child. Learn about how it occurs and options to manage the condition

DR SMRITHI NAYAK

PLACENTA PREVIA is a serious pregnancy complication that poses a risk to both mother and baby. It is important to recognise the dangers of this condition which affects approx. one in every 200 to 500 pregnancies. It occurs when the placenta implants low in the uterus and partially or fully blocks the cervix. Because of this, vaginal delivery becomes unsafe. History of previous C-sections, multiple pregnancies, prior uterine surgeries, or maternal age over 35 cause this condition.

Why is it high risk?

Sudden and severe haemorrhaging, which can occur without prior symptoms, endangers the life of mother and baby, often necessitating emergency medical intervention. Other potential complications include pre-term delivery, placental abruption and the need for a hysterectomy to control bleeding.

How to manage it?

Once diagnosed, patients are monitored, and an elective C-section is generally scheduled between 36 and 37 weeks. During delivery, protocols, including blood product availability, intensive care readiness, and neonatal support, are put in place.

The game-changers

A multidisciplinary protocol includes prophylactic balloon occlusion (PBO) of the internal iliac arteries combined with lower segment caesarean section (LSCS). The outcomes include zero cases of peripartum hysterectomy, no postoperative blood transfusions, estimated blood loss below and hospital stays of 2-4 days.

Internal iliac artery balloon catheterisation has transformed the way life-threatening placental conditions are managed. This technique involves placing balloon catheters in the internal iliac arteries prior to the C-section. Once the baby is delivered, the balloons are inflated to temporarily reduce pelvic blood flow, minimising intraoperative bleeding.

A still from the film

...says director Naveen Reddy, speaking about Maadeva, his collaboration with Vinod Prabhakar, and how the role of a hangman was meticulously crafted, while also presenting other notable actors in a completely new light

'I BELIEVE EMOTION IS BIGGER THAN ACTION'

A SHARADHAA

NAVEEN REDDY B may be just one film old as a director—with Khaki marking his debut—but he brings over 20 years of experience in the Kannada film industry. Now, with his second film Maadeva set to release on June 6, he hopes this marks a defining moment in his journey: from an assistant director working behind the scenes to a storyteller confidently bringing his own vision to the screen. "I've worked with many directors and across all kinds of films," says Naveen. "Luck and time need to meet. Until then, you evolve." Unlike Khaki, Naveen has written the story of Maadeva himself. The film follows the life of a hangman, portrayed by Vinod Prabhakar, but according to the director, it is not about the technicalities of capital punishment. "It's not about procedures. It's about the hangman's emotional life—his family, his struggles, his connection with society. It's brutal, yes, but also deeply human," Naveen explains.

Vinod, known for his image as an action star, has been given a multi-dimensional role in this film. "I believe emotion is universal—bigger than action. In the last 40 minutes, audiences won't see Vinod Prabhakar—they'll see Maadeva," he says confidently. Each actor was cast with intent. Sonal Monteiro plays a layered female lead, while Srinagar Kitty, Shruti, and Malashree bring complex shades to their characters. "Shruti was surprised I approached her for a negative role. Malashree has a pivotal part that involves action. Even Cockroach Sudhir, though his screen time is brief, plays a vital role." Vinod's physical transformation was meticulously crafted, including wearing lenses throughout the shoot. "That alone was a challenge—shooting day after day with lenses. But it helped to show a completely different side of him."

Maadeva releases alongside Kamal Haasan's Thug Life, but Naveen remains unfazed. "Yes, Kamal sir has a huge fan base, but in the end, it's about the story. Today, there's a shortage of strong Kannada films. Audiences are eager for meaningful local cinema. I believe they'll judge us fairly on the first day, first show." Maadeva has stunt direction by Different Danny, Real Satish, and Vikram More, cinematography by Balakrishna Thota, editing by Vijay M. Kumar; and art direction by Guna.

Yuva Rajkumar's Ekka pushes release date

CE FEATURES

KKA, backed through three major production houses—KRG Studios (Karthik Gowda and Yogi G. Rao), Jayanna Films (Jayanna and Bhogendra), and PRK Productions, led by Ashwini Puneeth Rajkumar. Originally announced to hit screens on June 6, the makers have now officially postponed the release. Ekka will now make its grand theatrical release on July 18, 2025

Directed by Rohit Padaki, Ekka marks his first collaboration with Yuva Rajkumar, in what is the actor's second film after his debut in Yuva. The recently released sneak peek from Ekka showed Yuva in a fierce new avatar—face paint, rugged costume, whistle, and shades—instantly reminding audiences of his uncle, Puneeth Rajkumar. One scene shows him cutting through shadows with a sword, evoking memories of the Jackie era.

The teaser hints at a darker, bolder story, filled with suspense and strong characters. The film stars Sampada and Sanjana Anand as the female leads, with Atul Kulkarni and Aditya in key roles.

With music by Charan Raj, cinematography by Satya Hegde, and editing by Deepu S. Kumar, Ekka is in its final leg of post-production, ready to make a big splash this monsoon.

The alluring assassin

CE FEATURES

AS the world is set to witness Ana De Armas stepping into the shoes of a ruthless assassin, Eve Macarro, in Ballerina, the John Wick spin-off, director of the film Len Wiseman says Ana did not just inherit the franchise but "earned it." Even though the actor has been a part of intense films like Blade Runner 2049, Ghosted, No Time to Die, and Knives Out, Ana De Armas is playing a full-fledged action role for the first time in Ballerina. Wiseman says he was impressed by Ana's performances in both the Daniel Craig-led films. "There was a fire in Ana that I wanted to meet and work with," Wiseman recalls, as he adds, "At the beginning, I told Ana that since Eve is just beginning her journey as an assassin, the character is going to, at times, get beaten down. Ana's reply was, 'Cool. Okay, I'm in.' During production, she'd show me her bruises from the action and stunts, and they became like merit badges."

He further delves into the actor's observation of the franchise saying that while Ana loves the John Wick films she believes Ballerina can also be an exciting standalone. "We wanted Eve to be approachable and realistic. She had a very traumatic childhood that changed the lens through which Eve sees life," he says. What got Wiseman excited about bringing on board Ana in Ballerina was not just seeing how she perfectly fit the role of an assassin but also the moving story of Eve. Wiseman shares, "She's perfect for the role in many ways. What I love about this franchise is that it is more of an actor-based action, and so we see the actors doing more of their own performance and choreography. And she was game with that."
